Beach Highway South to Become Reality, Croatian Engineer Says

Asks for Construction Of Intersecting Primary Road

A continuation of the Ocean Highway southward from Virginia Beach to the North Carolina line, long a dream of far-seeing planners, will become a future reality even if private capital alone is required to finance the project, according to W. T. McKilliam, an engineer for the Croatian Corporation, who appeared Monday before the Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors.

Mr. McKilliam asked the Board to draft a resolution endorsing construction by the State Highway Department of a primary road running due east from the triple-decker overpass, near Portlock, to join with Route No. 637, which enters the military reservation at Camp Peddleton at a point approximately five miles south of Route No. 58. He said that the proposed new thoroughfare would provide the most direct route for southbound and westbound traffic and also would provide a more direct route into the contemplated Croatian development south of Rudee Inlet.

The engineer then told the Board he had been assured, an excellent authority, that a road would be constructed along the coast to join Virginia Beach with the Carolina coast, as a continuation of the Ocean Highway, and that, if the State Highway Department failed to provide the necessary funds for construction, they would be supplied from private sources.

The Board of Supervisors tabled Mr. McKilliam's request for endorsement of the proposal to construct a new primary road through new territory to the overpass, saying they preferred to study the proposal before agreeing to endorsement.

Police Chiefs Attend Conference of Chiefs At Chamberlain Hotel

Virginia Beach Police Chief Reeves E. Johnson and Princess Anne County Police Chief Ivan Mapp are attending a two-day conference of the Virginia Association of Chiefs of Police ending today at the Chamberlain Hotel, Old Point.

Governor Tuck Calls Attention of County Residents to Observance of National Newspaper Week October 1-8

To the people of Princess Anne County, Virginia:
It is a great privilege for me, as Governor, to call the attention of the people to the observance of National Newspaper Week, October 1 through 8, and to suggest to our citizens that, especially during this period, they re-examine the significance and meaning to us all of the untrammeled exercise of the sacred right of free speech.

Free expression is one of our greatest bulwarks against tyranny. Virginia, the cradle of free expression in the New World, has a tradition of distinguished journalism which has been ever alert to guard the right and to fight the forces of evil.

Free expression today means even more than a shield of Liberty. It will may be the greatest single factor in the establishment of abiding world harmony. It is my belief that the people of the world can attain that mutuality of understanding so essential to the preservation of peace and the advancement of the human race only through a free, untainted and unvarnished exchange of accurate information and intelligent opinion.

It is my earnest hope that the Virginia press will continue to be the pacemaker in bringing enlightenment to the many crannies and corners of darkness that exist in the world today.

WILLIAM M. TUCK, GOVERNOR,
COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA

General Marshall Pleads For The 'Right To Know'—Essential To Peace

By General George C. Marshall, Secretary of State

The theme of National Newspaper Week, "Your Right To Know Is The Key To All Your Liberties," emphasizes a fundamental freedom which our government is actively seeking to encourage throughout the world—freedom of the people to know the truth.

Half of the world's population lives under some form of censorship today. Denied access to the facts, people in countries where censorship and government control of the press exist can base their judgments only on half-truths or false information fed to them by those in control. Censorship and press control are the first and most important steps in the subjugation of people by a dictator.

American should keep constantly in mind that no people have lost their liberties so long as their press remained free. Eliminate Barriers

It is also a vital concern of ours to see that the barriers to the flow of information are reduced and, as far as possible, eliminated. This is an essential to the world peace which we are seeking.

Our Government is making every effort, through the United Nations, to reduce these barriers between countries. In the Commission on Human Rights, in the Economic and Social Council, in the General Assembly, at the recent Conference at Geneva on Freedom of Information, and in UNESCO, we have pressed for active consideration of freedom of information during the past eighteen months. Progress has been difficult, yet it is encouraging. Seek the Truth

A heavy responsibility rests with the press and other organs of information to aid in this important work. In their best traditions, it is for them, in the language of the United Nations, "to seek the truth without prejudice and report the facts without malicious intent."

C. M. Sloope Named Jaycee Secretary

C. M. Sloope was elected secretary of the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne County Junior Chamber of Commerce at the first regular business meeting held Tuesday night. Mr. Sloope will fill the unexpired term of Albert C. Roper.

As a project for the Fall season, the Junior Chamber has undertaken to determine the feasibility of decorating the streets of the town during the Christmas holidays. This project may be carried out in cooperation with other civic organizations of the town.

Auditions For Ruritan Show At Oceana October 8

Mrs. Vincent Davis To Direct Show To Be Given November 19

Auditions for the annual Minstrel and Variety Show of the Princess Anne Ruritan Club will be held at the Oceana High School auditorium on Friday, October 8, at 8 p.m., according to Mrs. Vincent Davis, of Manassas, Virginia, who will direct the show this year. Mrs. Davis has spent most of her life in Norfolk and is well known in this area. She has directed the annual Lions Club show in Portsmouth for the past 14 years and will do so again this year.

All vocal or specialty act talent in Princess Anne County, male or female, young or old, amateur or professional, is urged to attend and take part in the audition. Mrs. Davis will select talent for numerous solo numbers in the show as well as for a mixed chorus of about 25 ladies and 25 men.

Last year the Ruritan show was an all male affair, except for dance numbers. All of the men were club members. This year Mrs. Davis hopes to get the best talent, both men and women, regardless of membership in the club. She is especially anxious that solo voice talent from the numerous church choirs in the county attend and sing numbers of their own choice at the audition October 8. Mr. Les Shelly, a member of the Ruritan Club, who will be the piano accompanist for the show, will be on hand at the tryouts. Anyone who so desires, however, may bring their own accompanist.

The tentative date set for the show itself is November 19 and complete details concerning the show will be announced at a later date. Rehearsals will begin at the Oceana High School auditorium October 19 at 8 p.m., one month before the show date.

Cooke Teachers To Be Honored by PTA At Annual Tea

Teachers of the Willoughby T. Cooke School will be guests of honor at an annual tea presented by the Parent-Teacher Association of the school Monday, October 4, in the school auditorium. Mrs. W. McCallahan, Jr., and Mrs. Sidney Kellam will be in charge of arrangements.

A meeting of the Association will precede the tea. Mrs. Andrew Moore, program chairman, has announced that Miss Carol Simpson will present a reading and Mrs. Griffin Deal will sing several selections, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Charles Hitchings.

There will be an executive meeting of chairmen of the Association at 2:15 p.m., preceding the regular meeting.

NOTICE

On October 2, 1948, I will sit at the Town Hall, Virginia Beach, Virginia, from 9 to 5 o'clock for the purpose of registering qualified voters.

If you desire to register, please bring your poll tax receipts.
C. P. HEARNE, Registrar.

Buyers Advised To Investigate Status of Nearby Roadways

A warning to prospective buyers of property to check with the Highway Engineer's office to find out whether or not streets adjacent to the property in question have been taken into the secondary system has been voiced by Resident Highway Engineer E. D. Hubbard.

Mr. Hubbard said that numerous complaints have reached him from property owners who have been told by developers that the highway department would maintain adjacent streets and roadways. Subsequent investigation disclosed that those streets and roadways had never been taken into the secondary system and the property owners were left without recourse except to provide their own construction and maintenance.

In view of limitations of funds available for construction and maintenance of roads this year, Mr. Hubbard proposed to members of the Board of Supervisors, meeting Monday, that roads and streets requested by the Supervisors to be taken into the secondary highway system should comply with certain standards and conditions. He listed these to include:

- a. Right of way—to be not less than 50 feet.
- b. Streets to be thoroughly drained, satisfactory to resident engineer.
- c. Surface—to be not less than 16 feet wide, with material approved by the resident engineer, and, in some instances, a surface treatment should be required.
- d. All improvements performed on streets and roads that will be subsequently added to the secondary system should be approved by the resident engineer, including the plat of the area involved in order to have adequate drainage ditches dedicated.

"I feel that additions serving purely rural residents, mostly farming areas and where no development is concerned, should be taken into the system in their natural state without requiring the property owner or adjacent land owners to improve the road, as would be the case for a developed area," Mr. Hubbard said.

The engineer stated it costs approximately $2,000 per mile to improve the average addition sufficiently to be satisfactory to all year traffic. On the basis of $25,000 available for additions, he said, up to 12 and one-half miles of additions could be considered.

Chamber Endorses Wednesday Closings

The Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce, in a letter sent to all business houses, is urging Virginia Beach merchants to observe a half holiday on Wednesdays during the winter months.

The Chamber letter states that "it enthusiastically endorses such a closing plan and recommends that business firms join in such a movement."

Many business places in Virginia Beach have been observing Wednesday afternoon closings and the Chamber has endorsed the idea to include all businesses at the Beach.

Group To Appear At Courthouse Saturday; NAACP To Observe

Following through with their determination to register for voting in the Seaboard Magisterial District, a group of colored people will go to Princess Anne Court House Saturday morning in a body, with representatives of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People on hand to observe whether or not they are denied registration.

C. I. Siler, president of the Princess Anne County Civic Organization, a colored civic group, is expected to head Saturday's delegation.

"The NAACP has charged that, among the colored people who have been denied the right to register are college graduates, veterans, successful farmers and outstanding business men of the district."

A. W. Shipp, registrar for Seaboard District, has denied the charge, saying that anyone eligible to register has been permitted to do so.

Principal provisions of the State law governing registration state that persons to be registered must "be twenty-one years of age at the next election, a resident of the State one year, of the county, city or town six months, and of the precinct 30 days next preceding the election."

He also, at least six months prior to the election, must have paid the proper poll taxes assessed or assessable against him for the three years next preceding the election.

The law (Section 93 of the Code) further states that the applicant "unless physically unable to do so, shall make application to the registrar, in his own handwriting, without aid, suggestion, or memorandum, in the presence of the registrar, stating therein his name, age, date, and place of birth, residence, and occupation at the time and for the two years next preceding, and whether he has previously voted."

Those just becoming 21 years of age pay $1.50 for one year's tax. War veterans are not required to pay for those years they were in service.

Forbes Candies Opens Columbus, Ohio, Store

Forbes Candies announces the opening of a new plant in the F. & B. Lazarus Company store in Columbus, Ohio, Monday, October 4. James F. Spear, manager of leased department manufacturing interests for Forbes Candies, is presently in Columbus setting up this plant preparatory to the beginning of operations.

Considerable thought and planning between the Lazarus Company and Forbes Candies has been given this new operation. It is expected to be one of the finest miniature candy plants in the country, and numbers the third such plant Forbes Candies has in operation. The other two plants are located with Rich's, Inc., Atlanta, Ga., and Thalheimers, Richmond.

Charles H. Forbes, Jr., upon leaving for the opening, indicated his intention to further expand these interests in Cincinnati and Dayton, Ohio, within the coming six months, after the Atlanta plant has been enlarged in October to take care of the demand for these quality candies there. Forbes Candies maintains its main manufacturing plant and executive offices at Virginia Beach.

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK

The Virginia Beach News today joins the Virginia Press Association and newspapers throughout the nation in the observance of National Newspaper Week.

The slogan of National Newspaper Week—THE RIGHT TO KNOW IS THE KEY TO ALL YOUR LIBERTIES—embodies the principle by which the Virginia Beach News has been guided over a long period of time.

For this principle we may gain friends or we may lose them, but if our efforts are rewarded by some small measure of improvement in the civic, social, governmental or administrative processes of our Town and County, we shall have earned our reward.

FREE PRESS DEMANDS VIGILANCE OF THE NEWSPAPER READER

(Reprinted from "How to Get the Most Out of Your Newspaper," published by the New York Herald-Tribune.)

Article I of the Bill of Rights states that "Congress shall make no law . . . abridging freedom of speech or of the press."

This is the written guarantee of freedom of the printed word in the United States.

Freedom of the press, a privilege of democracy, also exacts a responsibility from us, the citizens who enjoy it. We must, as part of our birthright, think for ourselves about the important questions of our time. Because we aren't handed our opinions, cellophane-sealed, from a political Can't-Be-Wrong on high, we have to shape our decisions in our own minds, the hard way. And we are further committed to base our judgments, not on emotional bias or lastly parroted generalizations, but on the evidence of the complete facts.

A Common Carrier

Radio, television and the magazines help in some measure to provide this type of evidence. But towering above these media as a common carrier of public information is the press—the tremendous, influential, dynamic force of the almost 2,000 daily and 10,000 weekly newspapers published in the United States today.

Newspaper readers, obviously, vary. Some take their papers lightly, as they would a movie, a detective story, a game. Skilled and conscientious readers, on the other hand, read, learn from and evaluate their newspapers to get the most out of them.

True, it's very much our own business which newspapers we read and how we read them. But we cannot overlook the need for good newspapers, and above all, for intelligent reading of good newspapers. For, like it or not, the world we live in is inescapably our business. And today, as through all history, there are forces in it reading over our shoulders, quietly welcoming all uninformed, unquestioning mentalities. Why? All the "isms" that discount and take over the individual thrive best when the people have lost communication with, and even desire for, the whole story—i.e., when they've lost the knack of weighing the facts and thinking for themselves.

Yes, we in America are free to read whatever newspapers we prefer, in whatever manner we choose—or to read no newspapers at all. But the next time we stroll past a newsstand, we might remember this. To keep our freedom of the press, we Americans may have to discipline ourselves to make the most of it.

For largely by skilled and conscientious use of newspapers, can we arm ourselves with the truth about the world in which we live. And it is the truth, plus the unquenchable desire of free men for the truth, which will fortify the human race against tyranny and enslavement.

THE COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER

(Reprinted from the Wilshire, Ohio, Herald, 1947)

The small-town newspaper is something that is all its own, a purely home product, and for that reason it has become an American institution, an American "free enterprise" if you please. It is the essence of free expression, for in the main the country newspaper editor doesn't know anything else or have any incentive than to express his own thoughts as they are formed by the expressions heard on the streets or in the homes of his neighbors. To be factual, the small-town newspaper is edited, in part, at least, if not in its entirety, by the average citizen, its policies sometimes dictated by those who hang over the backyard fence and discuss things that the editor dare not print in his paper—things that would tear the town wide open if given publicity as it is told over the backyard fence or by those who hug the store box on Main Street—for they all know what should be in the home town paper, and frequently they know it all before it gets into print. That's one thing that makes the small town newspaper valuable—to see it was printed "the way I told it to you."

Often, perhaps not frequently enough, it is not told that way, for if it was the editor would be languishing in jail while the formulations of the paper's policy would be hanging over that backyard fence or hugging the Main Street store box in eloquent dispute as to why that darned fool editor wasn't enqueued to serve a life term in the penitentiary.

Perhaps life would have been more sweet to him had he been thus penalized—for every editor who bolts out of the dictates of his conscience to pay or "sauce" to the opinions of the non-subscribers—is deserving the fate of an isolationist. Well, if this be treason—well, just make the most of it.

A hearty meal
if "FIRE" gets at it!

It's A Miracle—But We Are Sending the Check

In reply to your request to send a check, I wish to inform you that the present condition of my bank account makes it almost impossible. My shattered financial condition is due to Federal laws, State laws, County laws, City laws, Mothers-in-law, Brothers-in-law, Sisters-in-law and Out-laws.

Through these laws I am compelled to pay a business tax, amusement tax, head tax, school tax, gas tax, light tax, water tax, sales tax, liquor tax, carpet tax, income tax, food tax, furniture tax and excise tax. Even my brains are taxed. I am required to get a business license, car license, truck license, liquor license, not to mention a marriage license and dog license.

I am also required to contribute to every society and organization which the genius of man is capable of bringing to life; to women's relief, the unemployed relief and the gold digger's relief. Also to every hospital and charitable institution in the city, including the Red Cross, the Black Cross, and the Double Cross.

For my own safety I am required to carry life insurance, property insurance, liability insurance, burglar insurance, accident insurance, business insurance, earthquake insurance, tornado insurance, unemployment insurance, old age insurance and fire insurance.

My business is so governed that it is no easy matter for me to find out who owns it. I am inspected, expected, suspected, disrespected, rejected, defected, examined, re-examined, informed, required, summoned, fired, commended and compelled until I provide an inexhaustible supply of money for every known need, desire or hope of the human race.

I can tell you honestly that except for the miracle that happened I could not enclose this check. The wolf that comes to many doors nowadays just had pups in my kitchen. I sold them and here is the check.

Behind the Scenes in American Business
By Reynolds Knight

New York—An incisive report just published by the Cleveland Trust Company reveals that, contrary to public opinion, corporations as a whole in 1947 made a profit after taxes of only 5.3 cents on every dollar of sales.

"In the minds of many persons," states the report, "there is a persistent delusion that corporations are making huge profit margins on their volume of sales. One public opinion poll, for instance, indicates a belief by one-fourth of the public that industry makes a profit of more than 40 per cent."

One of the most common reasons for this impression, according to the bank report, "is the failure to recognize that the record-breaking dollar total of corporate profits, which has been widely publicized, has little meaning in itself because it is expressed in inflated dollars."

All manner of statistical indicators in dollars have been breaking records, the company says, "and it would be strange if they did not do so, in view of the number of dollars in the country."

In a breakdown of the distribution of the sales dollar of corporations in 1947, the Cleveland Trust shows that wages, salaries, materials and other expenses accounted for 91.3 cents. Taxes took 34 cents; dividends 2 cents, and retained profits against contingencies 3.3 cents.

THINGS TO COME—The frequently tedious nuisance of checking a short circuit in an automobile is largely eliminated with a new testing device, built with two meters and equipped with copper testing prods. It gives a quick check (without tools or any disconnections) on the battery, volt regulator, starter switch, lighting circuits and so forth . . . Portable addressing machine for small businesses stamps up to 20 cards or envelopes a minute . . . Pocket flashlight and pencil are combined in new gadget . . . Plastic slate can be written on with stylus, then erased with cloth dipped in special fluid . . . Aluminum cigarette case prevents crushing and dampening and also has space for matches . . . Battery-powered toy auto reverses itself automatically when it touches an object . . . A new coffee-flavored soft drink will be marketed soon . . . Electric-powered label dispenser for use in drug stores attaches labels to bottles without moistening.

BITS O' BUSINESS—Continuation of the business boom into 1949 depends more on construction than any other factor, according to "Business Week" . . . The Air Force has just announced another $103 million in aircraft orders . . . Business men generally seem to have three major fears at this time: (1) rising costs; (2) lack of skilled labor; (3) fear of the international situation . . . One of the quickest shifts in the postwar supply situation has been in fuels. Talk recently has shifted from shortages to possible oversupply . . . Steel makers currently are producing at the rate of 90 million tons annually, which may enable the industry to reach an annual output of 97 million tons for 1948.

Fire Prevention Week Aims Outlined by Farm Chairman Lane-

"The time to fight fires is before they have started," says R. W. Lane, chairman of the Princess Anne County Agricultural Committee, in calling attention to the President's proclamation designating the week of October 3 as National Fire Prevention Week. "Most fires are man-made and the direct result of carelessness and neglect, therefore, are preventable. Fight potential fires now by eliminating on the farm all hazards or careless habits that might add your house or barn to the 100 farm buildings destroyed by fire each day of the year!"

Farm fire property losses last year amounted to a hundred million dollars, Mr. Lane said, but there is no measure on the loss of 3,500 farm people killed by fire or the thousands injured. The committee chairman said that ninety per cent of all farm fires can be prevented, and outlined preventative measures Princess Anne farmers should take.

"Defective chimneys, flues, and stovepipes rank second as the cause of farm fires," he said. "Repair cracks and other defects with cement mortar. Replace rusted or burned-out stovepipes. Clean chimneys each fall. Install double metal ventilated thimbles where stovepipes pass through combustible walls or partitions."

"Seven of each hundred farm fires are started by sparks on the roof. A spark arrester will make your home safer. Danger of fire can be further reduced with fire-retardant roofing."

"This sort of thing happens much too often. Never use gasoline or kerosene to start or hasten a fire. Place drip pans under kerosene stoves. Store gasoline a safe distance from the house, barn, and principal outbuildings. Never bring any volatile flammable liquid into the home—especially for dry cleaning."

"Inspect electric wiring and installation often. Broken or frayed wires, wires with the insulation worn off, broken insulators, defective switches, fuses of the improper size or type often are responsible for tragic and disastrous fires."

"Spontaneous ignition is one of the principal causes of the 20,000 barn fires that occur each year. Make frequent inspections of newly stored hay or grain until all danger of 'heating' has passed. Odors, smoke, gas, and heat are all warning signals, but for accurate information use a hay probe, containing a thermometer for determining temperature of hay at bottom of mow."

"Keep all oil, grease, or paint soaked rags in metal covered containers. Store paint and paint material in a safe place. Don't give fire even a little chance."

Four hundred farm people are killed by lightning each year and about a thousand more are injured, Mr. Lane said. Lightning is also the leading cause of farm fires, being responsible for 37 per cent of all of them. He said that lightning rods of the right size and material, properly installed and maintained on every farm building, will eliminate this particular fire menace as well as protect the occupants of the buildings.

Mr. Lane pointed out that seven per cent of the farm fires are attributed to matches and smoking.

Dailey Does 'Em

by Daphne Daily, Special Correspondent, VPA News Service

(Editor's Note: The following is a correspondence from Daphne Dailey, Special Correspondent of the Virginia Press Assn. News Service, who is making a tour of England, Scotland, France, and other places of interest this Summer. The following is from France.)

Avignon, France—They really dance on the bridge at Avignon

"The estimated loss from these causes runs into millions of dollars annually," he said. "Don't smoke in barns, stables, or outbuildings. Many fires are started by people who smoke in bed. Be sure your match is 'out' before you throw it away. Be careful where you discard cigarette butts, cigar stubs, and pipe heels."

on festival days. Other times they show it to tourists who know or have heard of the song.

Actually, it is a half-bridge, built in the 12th century and which partially collapsed about the 14th century into the strong current of the Rhone, according to the local guide. From a distance it looks like another war scar beside the new bridge which has replaced one bombed before the liberation. More interesting is the quaint old walled city with some streets too narrow for cars. About 60,000 population—40,000 within the walls and 20,000 outside. Avignon has wine, fruits, vegetables and an indescribable atmosphere of sunshine and slower motion. The children in the street, little beggars that they are, look Italian or Spanish. Melons are in season, and enormous, choice peaches seem abundant. (At tourist prices of about 50c each.)

Avignon attractions are the palaces of the popes. In 1309, Pope Clement V came here, beginning the residence of popes for 70 years during strife in Italy. John XXII and Benedict XII and others followed enlarged, added and extended the buildings so that the structure is a curious assembly of rooms. There are some tapestries and paintings but no furniture, and to walk through the passages and chambers is to sense a tinge of the middle ages. The past hangs heavily too, at points near Avignon. Over the Gard River is a remarkably well preserved viaduct built by the Romans 2,000 years ago. It is high above the river, in three tiers. Those early engineers knew their work and construction principles without the benefit of modern machines.

At the city of Nîmes the Romans ruled about 500 years. There they have left behind a temple.

Maison Carre, and an arena, still in good condition and still used for sports.

Two bicycle racers were working out the day of our visit, and the guide said that bull fights are held each Sunday when enough spectators agree to pay the cost. It seems that bull-fighting is illegal and subject to heavy fine. When the fans want to see another fight they pay extra to cover the penalty. It is a practical answer at any rate.

Here, as everywhere in a tourist's Europe, there is too much to see in too brief a time. On the train or bus rides between points there is an invariable exchange of notes. Was that castle built in the 14th century or the 16th? Did the guide say 49 B. C. or A. D.? How do you spell St. Trophimus?

A lot of weary American tourists are learning history to tell the weary neighbors next winter.

Four Little Theatre Plays Scheduled; Sale Of Tickets Rapid

Season tickets for the four productions of the Little Theatre of Virginia Beach, the first of which will be "George Washington Slept Here," to be produced at the Community House October 11-12, are moving rapidly according to Mrs. J. D. W. Cassada, chairman of the Little Theatre Committee. The number of tickets to be sold is limited.

Holders of season tickets will be given their choice of reserved seats in the first twelve rows, the rest of the seats being unreserved. All seats will be staggered, so that it will be possible to see from all of them. Season subscribers also have the advantage of being able to turn in, after the last performance of the season, their suggestions for the Board of Directors, to be considered by the Nominating Committee, for Directors. A list of the season subscribers will be published next week. Tickets will be on sale this week and next at Shelly's Appliance and Music Corporation, 26th Street.

There has been some discussion as to the acoustics in the auditorium of the Community House. According to those who have attended rehearsals, the actors can easily be heard at the back of the auditorium, and their projection will be given a big boost by the placing of a ceiling on the set.

The Workshop Committee of the Little Theatre will meet Monday, October 4, at 8 p.m. in the Community House, at which time they will hear a talk by Maynard Allen, expert on stage lighting. Allen has taught courses in lighting techniques, and for several years has done the lighting for the Norfolk Little Theatre. He will give a practical demonstration of lighting by showing the group just how he set up the lights for "George Washington Slept Here," for which he is lighting technician.

The workshop meetings will hereafter be scheduled for the second and fourth Wednesdays in the month, at the Community House, according to Cora Lynn Chaffee, program chairman.

Miss Chaffee will be interviewed at 1:05 p.m., Monday, October 4, over Station WLOW.

Committee Christian Women Citizens to Meet October 7

The Committee of Christian Women Citizens will meet Thursday, October 7, at 10:30 a.m. at the Community House. Mrs. Frank Klepper will preside at the meeting.

The committee appointed to study the women's election laws will present the results of their study. The committee consists of Mrs. E. G. Barr, chairman, Mrs. Ira Church, and Mrs. M. W. L. Ashburn.

Galilee Auxiliary Meets Tuesday In New Parish House

The Woman's Auxiliary of Galilee Episcopal Church will meet in the new Parish House Tuesday, October 5, at 11 a.m. Luncheon will be served after the meeting.

Mrs. Julian Binford, of Charlotte, N. C., is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Wood, at their home on Pochontas Drive.

Birthday Luncheon Planned by Senior Woman's Club

Playground President, Championship Winners Feted by Team Sponsors

Virginia Beach Playground Association President E. B. (Bubber) Bayne was guest of honor at a dinner party in the Pine Tree Inn Sunday night, when Mr. and Mrs. Charles Forbes and their children entertained members of the softball team, the "Sweeties," sponsored by Forbes Candies.

The "Sweeties" were championship winners in the 1948 softball competition, finishing the season with a double-header with Oceana scoring 12-11 and 7-4.

At the end of the first half, the "Sweeties" were tied with Shelly's Appliance team, winning four and losing two. The tie was played off with Shelly's, the "Sweeties" winning two out of three games to put them in the running for the championship. In championship playoff with Oceana

Thursday night, Forbes' won 22-11 and Friday night Oceana beat Forbes' 13-12. Saturday night's double header resulted in the "Sweeties" taking both games.

Members of the "Sweeties" softball team include Jane Sullivan, Nancy Gregg, Charlotte Scarborough, Nedra Aldridge, Becky Macoubbin, Lillian Belle Booker, Barbara Kernan, Helen Hayman, Mary Leigh Ward, Carolyn Meachum, Doris Harcum, Elsie Rice, Grace Vahon, Vernon Ruth Pierce, and Lois Johnson. George Aldridge serves as coach, Duck Reid as assistant coach and George Aldridge, Jr., as bat boy.

In addition to the players and the guest of honor, Sunday's dinner party was attended by Mrs. George A. Aldridge and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Sullivan.

"Greenbrier" To Feature Talents Of Local Artists

Elizabeth Bull Maury, Emma Grey Trigg Author Music, Story

"Greenbrier," an operetta being produced and presented by the Richmond Opera Group in the WRVA Theater October 6-8, will display the talents of two former Tidewater natives—Emma Grey Trigg, who wrote the book and the lyrics, and Elizabeth Bull Maury, who composed the music.

The story has as its setting the famous Greenbrier Hotel at White Sulphur Springs in the late 1890's. It was produced originally in the Summer of 1946 in the hotel.

The forthcoming production hardly will be recognizable, however, since the book has almost completely been re-written and the music re-scored by Arthur Norris, familiar to Richmond audiences for his musical direction of Opera Group offerings including, "The Chocolate Soldier," "The Vagabond King," "The New Moon," and "The Firefly."

In addition to night performances Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, there will be a matinee Thursday afternoon.

A copy of the book and score of "Greenbrier" is under consideration in Hollywood, according to

Comdr. K. W. Caffey Serving With Cited Air Squadron

Comdr. K. W. Caffey, USN, of 66th Street, is serving with Attack Squadron Twenty Five which has just been awarded the Battle Efficiency Pennant and "E" for its general excellence throughout the fiscal year July 1, 1947 to July 1, 1948.

The award is a competitive one, based on overall battle efficiency. Consideration is given to all factors incident to squadron operations such as administrative efficiency, appearance of personnel, performance of pilots and aircraft gunnery, rockets, bombing and instrument work.

Brooks Promoted to Lieutenant at VMI

Thomas Lea Brooks, III, a cadet at the Virginia Military Institute, Lexington, Virginia, has been promoted from regimental sergeant to first lieutenant.

a spokesman for the Opera Group, where it is being scrutinized for possible motion picture production. New York theatrical circles also are said to be interested in the forthcoming production. Several Virginia Beach residents have signified their intentions of attending performances of the operetta.

Oceana Cavaliers Will Journey To Franklin Tonight

The Oceana Cavaliers defeated Deep Creek by the score of 13 to 9 on the Oceana grounds Friday. The first touchdown resulted from a pass from Johnson to Carson. The pass was from the 20-yard line. The conversion was made by a pass from Johnson to Jones.

Oceana again scored when Jones took another pass and raced 18 yards. Sawyer missed the extra point and the final score was 13 to 9 in favor of Oceana. This was a Group II conference game.

Oceana goes to Franklin tonight to engage their high school team under the lights. This is the first meeting of the two schools in football.

Robert Meade will not see service for several weeks due to a shoulder injury.

The line-up for the teams Friday:

Oceana—Ends: Jones and Everington; Tackles: Meades and S. Voliva; Guards: Gilbert and Capper; Center: Ridge; Backs: Carson, Sawyer, Aydtlett and Johnson.

Deep Creek—Ends: Witten and Hengel; Tackles: Sawyer and Redmond; Guards: Powers and Mehallesue; Backs: Williams, Walaki, Berry and Marriner.

White Resigns From Hospital Staff To Resume Profession

Herbert N. White, designer and superintendent of the Virginia Beach Hospital, has announced that he will retire from the hospital staff and will resume his practice as an architectural designer.

Mr. White, designer of the three-story hospital building, said that construction is nearing completion and the business organization has been set up, and that he now feels free to return to his architectural profession.

"Reports from all quarters indicate that the hospital is serving well a long-felt need in this community," Mr. White said. "Drs. H. F. Dormire, W. L. Taylor and J. W. Todd, who compose the medical staff, are quite busy caring for emergency cases as well as office and hospital patients."

"Several patients from the North have remarked that the traditional Virginia hospitality is no exception at the Virginia Beach hospital," he said.

The architect said that, because of the usual delays in current construction, the formal opening of the hospital has been postponed until mid-October.

Bowling League Elects Officers; 12 Teams Participating

The Woman's Bowling League of Virginia Beach elected Dr. Conrad as president and a slate of other officers Monday night in the Town Hall.

John Brown, the new manager of the Virginia Beach Bowling Alley, will serve as league secretary. Imogene Hitt was named as treasurer and Hilda Good will be chairman of publicity.

The League this year will be composed of 12 teams, with the names of the teams and their sponsors to be announced later.

Another meeting is scheduled Wednesday night, October 6, and the first game of the season will be played. Girls interested in joining the League, who have not yet attended meetings, have been invited to attend. Firms wishing to sponsor teams have been requested to communicate with Mrs. Dot Conrad, telephone 1808.

Vets of Foreign Wars Plan Membership and Clubhouse Drive

Members of Post 7166, Veterans of Foreign Wars, are entering upon an all-out membership drive, with tentative plans being drawn for construction of a club meeting house.

Plans in prospect also include an oyster roast, planned for October, and a dance to be scheduled in the Spring. A bowling team is to be organized immediately.

Meetings are held the first and third Thursdays in each month, members voted, at the association to the Cavalier Coin Machine Company for a large rayon American flag.

presented to the unit by the company recently, and to the Shelly Appliance Company for their co-operation in a recent subscription drive in which several awards were presented.

Advocate R. G. Barr, Jr., Chaplain Garland Alwater, and Trustees Gaston Doe, Peter Doyle, and William Holloman. The unit was organized April 14, 1944.

Over 1,500 head of cattle will be exhibited at the Atlantic Rural Exposition, Richmond, October 4-9.

Farm Storage Is Urged as CCC Grain Bins Near Capacity

R. W. Lane, chairman of the Princess Anne County Agricultural Conservation Committee, again has urged farmers to protect their grain supplies through proper farm storage, and to make possible more orderly marketing of the current crops through taking advantage of government loan and purchase agreement programs.

In calling for increased farm storage of this year's abundant crops, the chairman said that without such increased facilities, farmers may have to sell their crops immediately, even if prices are below the support level and even if such current sales help to jam the already overflowing market channels.

As a means of solving the problem, Mr. Lane reminded farmers that CCC loans and purchase agreements are available to all producers of grain on all the qualified grain offered. He quoted from a recent statement from Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan, who said, "The loans cannot be granted, however, unless proper storage is assured and the purchase agreements lose much of their effectiveness as price protection if unsatisfactory storage causes deterioration of the grain. The fact that this year's grain crop is the most expensive ever produced, from the standpoint of farmers' production costs, emphasizes the need for producers to protect their investment in the grain.

"Grain bins now owned by the CCC have a storage capacity of only about 50 million bushels, as contrasted with a capacity of more than 300 million bushels during the war. With commercial facilities overloaded, the answer must lie in expanded farm storage.

"I am, therefore, again urging all grain farmers and all agencies of the department to continue their cooperative efforts to make the fullest possible use of present farm storage, and to construct additional storage facilities as needed."

Referring to an apparent misunderstanding about the price levels at which the Department of Agriculture buys grain for supply programs such as for shipment under the European Recovery Program, Secretary Brannan explained that such purchases are made at the prevailing market price in accordance with legislative provisions. Unlike CCC loans and purchase agreements, such purchases do not provide farmers with direct price protection at the support level.

432-ACRE FAIR GROUNDS—The extensive grounds and race track of the Atlantic Bural Exposition, to be held in Richmond during the week of October 4, are shown above. A mammoth tented city of over 135,000 square feet has been erected to supplement the existing buildings in order to house the educational and commercial exhibits that will pour into the 432-acre grounds this week in preparation for the opening of the Atlantic States Greatest Fair. Two additional entrances for automobiles will provide speedy handling of the 250,000 persons that are expected to attend. All Virginia school children will be admitted free upon presentation of coupons now being distributed through the public schools.

1500 Club Members To Get Chicago 4-H Congress Trips

With the forthcoming National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, more than 20,000 rural boys and girls from all parts of the nation will have attended the event since the first meeting in 1922. The Club Congress, scheduled this year for November 28-December 2, is held annually to honor 4-H Club members for work well done in agricultural and home economics activities. Fifteen hundred 4-H delegates, leaders and extension service workers, together with youth from several foreign countries, will attend.

The delegates—state and sectional winners in national 4-H awards programs—will take part in group discussions and educational tours. They will also be guests at special functions given in their honor by awards donors and civic groups.

Trips to the Club Congress are a part of the prizes offered in the programs. With other incentives, such as college scholarships, savings bonds, watches, county medals, plaques and leader training funds, more than $325,000 worth of merit awards are provided in 1943 through the National 4-H Club Committee by private citizens, educational foundations and industrial organizations interested in furthering 4-H Club work.

The national 4-H programs are conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service. Programs and awards donors include: National 4-H Achievement trophies presented in the name of the President of the United States; National Leadership—Edward F. Wilson and H. A. Moses; Better Methods Electric—Westinghouse; Canning—Mrs. Ruth Kerr; Clothing—Spool Cotton; Knitting and Crocheting—Spinnerin; Dairy—Rateway; Dairy Foods Demonstrations—Carnation Co.; Dairy Production—Kraft Foods; Dress Revue—Simplicity Pattern; Farm Safety—General Motors; Field Crops and Frozen Foods—International Harvester; Food Preparation—Serve; Forestry—American Forest Products Industries; Garden—Allis-Chalmers; Girls' Record—Montgomery Ward; Health Improvement—Kellogg; Home Grounds Beautification—Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen; Home Improvement—Sears-Robuck Foundation; Meat Animal—Thos. E. Wilson; Livestock and Club Activities—Cudahy Packing; Faulty—Dearborn Motors; Recreation and Rural Arts—U. S. Rubber; Sheep Shearing—Sunbeam; Soil Conservation—Firestone; and Tractor Maintenance—Standard Oil (Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky), Pan American Petroleum, Utah Oil Refining, American Oil, and Stanolind Oil and Gas Companies.

Mr. Blandings' dream house might seem strange if it were built without any bedrooms, a kitchen or a yard. But the National Safety Council says it would be a lot safer. Nearly 56 per cent of home accident fatalities occur in these three locations, according to special studies.

Farm Prices Up 125 Pct.; Don't Buy Now, Says VPI Economist

Going in debt to buy a farm on today's high-level market is one of the most serious mistakes anyone can make, believes Dr. Harry Love, head of the agricultural economics department at V. P. I. The economist pointed out that farm land prices in Virginia now average about 125 per cent above their 1941 level. This means, he said, that a farm which sold for $10,000 in 1941 now would, on the average, sell for around $22,500. Many people are buying farms in such a market and "consoling themselves with the thought that when farm land prices fall, other things will also," he said. These people overlook the tendency, proved in the past, for farm operating costs to remain high after prices for farm products drop, he said. In other words, decreases in operating costs lag behind decreases in produce prices, squeezing profits smaller and smaller.

When the prices of farm products and farm land start down, what will happen to the man who has paid, say, $22,500 for a farm under present conditions and has given a mortgage for half the price?

"He will have been liquidated long before prices return even to their 1941 level," Love says.

Love believes the young man anxious to get a start in farming would do well to look at present opportunities for hired hands. He said the wages of hired men are currently at an all-time high and "there has never been an equal opportunity in our history for a young man who has ability and wants to find a place for himself to do so on a good farm."

"A surprising number of farm operators are looking around for promising youngsters who are willing to buckle down to business and become part owners with them," he added.

The young man who does not have the cash to buy a farm outright will find either one of these opportunities superior to going in debt, Love believes. "There is probably nothing that will prove to be more burdensome in the years ahead than a poor farm... unless it is a poor farm with a mortgage on it."

"This, Mr. Van Winkle, is a telephone"

"A telephone? What's a telephone?"

"It's—well, it's rather hard to explain to someone who's never seen one. It's a—a means by which people can speak to each other—over a distance."

"You mean—say, over a mile?"

"A mile, a hundred miles, three thousand miles—even further."

"You mean I can talk into a telephone and somebody three thousand miles away can hear my voice? And I can hear them talking right back at me? And neither of us shouting?"

"That's right, sir."

"Well, knock me over with a bowling ball. Must be a mighty handy thing—the telephone."

No invention since Rip Van Winkle's time has been more "taken for granted" in daily life than the telephone. It's more than "mighty handy"—it's practically indispensable. And with new facilities constantly being added to improve and expand the service, it is growing in value every day.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK.. OCT. 3-9

HELP YOURSELF TO FIRE PREVENTION!

SOMEWHERE in this land of ours a preventable fire breaks out every 20 seconds—right around the clock! Farm fire loss alone is estimated at $99,000,000 annually; 3500 people are burned to death in farm fires annually; (this is over 1/3 of the total loss of life by fire!); there are over 17,500 barn fires annually! Direct forest fire loss is $32,694,000 yearly, with far greater indirect loss from watershed destruction.

In co-operation with National Fire Prevention Week, VEPCC suggests that you know and guard against these

Progress Shown In Equalizing White And Colored School Facilities, State Superintendent G. Tyler Miller Reports

Richmond, Virginia—Remarkable progress in equalizing the special aspect of education for Negroes in Virginia, especially during the past five years, was reported today by G. Tyler Miller, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Miller noted marked advances in teachers' salaries, the per capita expenditure for instruction, in the supply of well-trained teachers, in pupil transportation, and also in school buildings and equipment.

Salaries of white and Negro teachers had been completely equalized in 1947-48 in all except 30 counties and five cities. Miller said that in most of these 35 there existed "only slight differences between the salaries of white and Negro teachers with equal training and experience." Reports to his office indicate there will be only 15 counties and three cities in which some inequality of salaries for white and Negro teachers will still exist in the session of 1948-49.

"Since in these 18 political subdivisions there would be only slight differences for the 1948-49 session in the salaries of white and Negro teachers with equal training and experience," Miller added, "it is reasonable to believe that complete equalization of salaries will have occurred by the 1949-50 school session in all of the counties and cities of the State."

As an example of the progress made in equalizing salaries, the Superintendent noted that in 1946-47 the average salary of white women teachers was $1,735 and the average for Negro women teachers was $1,724, a difference of only $11. The 1946-47 per capita expenditure for instruction of Negro pupils had increased 345 per cent over that of 1936-37 and amounted to $52.49, only $13.65 less than for white pupils.

In 1946-47, after salaries of white and Negro teachers had almost been equalized, 2,620 or 55.9 per cent of the Negro teachers held collegiate professional teachers' certificates, while only 7,447 or 50 per cent of the white teachers held similar certificates. In 1936-37 only 25.6 per cent of the Negro teachers held these two highest grade certificates, whereas 42.7 per cent of the white teachers held them. In 1946-47, about one white teacher out of every five held a temporary sub-standard certificate, while only one

Trained Nurse's Aides Needed For Volunteer Work In County

There is an immediate need for nurse's aides who have completed their full training, according to Mrs. Arthur J. Winder, publicity chairman of the Princess Anne County Chapter, American Red Cross.

Mrs. Winder said that nurse's aides in Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County, who have completed their full training and who want to continue their volunteer work, have been requested to communicate with Miss Pearl Duty, Executive Secretary, at the American Red Cross Headquarters in Virginia Beach.

Episcopal Church Play Series Begins Tonight on Mutual

"Great Scenes from Great Plays," the Episcopal Church's new radio series, will be inaugurated tonight at 8 o'clock. These programs will be carried by over 500 stations of the Mutual network and will be heard in this area over WCAP (1490 Kc.) and WSAF-FM (98.7 Mc.) Portsmouth.

The play to be given on this first program is Edmond Rostand's "Cyrano de Bergerac," with Walter Hampden and Ann Seymour as the stars. This play has been selected to dramatize the vitally important church message in this broadcast which concerns the importance of self-denial.

According to Miss Elizabeth Bain, secretary of Galilee Church, this series of broadcasts has been designed not so much to reach Episcopalians who, it is hoped, will want to tune in anyway, but its most important objective is to reach the millions in the United States who are completely without any church affiliation. The Presiding Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church calls this program a "daring yet ecumenically sound evangelistic plan."

Southside Virginia will be honored with a special day at the Atlantic Rural Exposition in Richmond. The date will be Tuesday, October 5.

Parents: See that your teen-agers children know how to drive to stay alive!

hope that "some plan may be devised by which a school building program, based on real and justifiable needs, can be financed." However, he emphasized that the quality of the educational program depends more upon the teacher than upon the buildings, or any other factor.

Top favorite car with America's youngsters

The new Studebaker is their idea of something "super" in an automobile!

"TOOK! THEY'VE GOT A NEW STUDEBAKER!" What sheer delight a youngster's voice can put into those words! Yes, the dreamlined Studebaker is the magic car of all the cars to most of the nation's school children. When you hear them say, "It looks like a new Studebaker" they're giving a lot of praise to any car. Take a tip from keen-eyed young America! Look and compare! There's nothing like Studebaker's light-streamed new sedans, coupes, convertibles—style stars of all cars.

Wm. F. Crockett and Sidney Banks Named on Virginia Travel Council

$100,000 Campaign to Increase Travel Trade Planned by Group

Representatives of the travel interests throughout Virginia gathered in Richmond Thursday to complete the organization of the Virginia Travel Council. The council will immediately launch a $100,000 campaign to increase the travel trade of the Old Dominion, Commander Raymond B. Bottom, chairman of the charter committee, said today.

Commander Bottom was named chairman of a committee last August to perfect organization plans, develop a program and constitution for the council, after a meeting of travel interests called by William A. Wright, director of the Virginia Department of Conservation and Development. The council will be designed to supplement the work of the State agency, and help Virginia meet the competition of other states for tourist business.

William F. Crockett, president of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners Association of Virginia, and Sidney Banks, president of the Cavalier Hotel Corporation, of Virginia Beach, were among the incorporators announced today by Commander Bottom. Others named include C. S. Carter, of Bristol, chairman of the Department of Conservation and Development; James S. Esley, of South Boston, president of the Patrick Henry Memorial Foundation; John Galeher, Leesburg publisher; James N. Hunter, manager of the Natural Bridge, and Albert Sidney Johnson, of Smithfield, president of the James River Bridge Corporation. Also included are Sterry Mahaffey, of Richmond, secretary of the Virginia Road Builders Association; L. C. Major, of Richmond, president of the Richmond Westbound Lines; B. W. Wooten, of Williamsburg, vice president of the Williamsburg Restoration; Hunter Perry, Charlottesville; Ben Pitts, Fredericksburg; George Summerson, Bristol; Don Thomas, of Harrisonburg; W. S. Hildreth, secretary of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Foundation at Charlottesville; L. Veberg, of Fredericksburg, president of the Virginia Motor Club Association; E. A. Elmore, of Richmond, president of the Virginia Wine Dealers Association; Ralph Miller, of Colonial Beach; Walter M. Chinn, Jr., of Fredericksburg, president of the Northern Virginia Real Estate Association; J. G. Holladay, of Richmond, and Herman C. Watson, of Olney, R. F. Nelson, of Richmond, has been mentioned as director of the council.

Parent-Teacher Bazaar Plans Shaping Up

Plans for the Annual Bazaar of the Oceana Parent-Teacher Association, scheduled for November 11, 12 and 13, are developing rapidly, according to Mrs. Fay Casper, publicity chairman.

Mrs. Casper said today that Norfolk and Virginia Beach merchants are cooperating fully and have donated many desirable items to be sold or given as prizes.

One of the most popular booths at last year's bazaar was the "Country Store." This year, Mrs. Walter Q. Gresham, "Country Store" chairman, has announced that she will have a large variety of home-canned vegetables and fruits, together with butter and fresh eggs, fresh vegetables which are in season, hams and chickens.

Persons versed in the fine art of canning have been invited to contribute their products to the "Country Store" through Mrs. Gresham, telephone Virginia Beach 189-R. Co-chairman with Mrs. Gresham are Mrs. R. P. Wright, Mrs. Dean Foster, Mrs. F. W. Cox and Mrs. Sam Harris.

Mrs. Jack Calk, chairman of the ticket committee, has reported that 15,000 tickets will be distributed for sale beginning Monday, October 11. Mrs. Calk also announced that awards of $10 and $5 will be made to the school child turning in the largest and the second largest sale of tickets.

In addition to prizes donated by the merchants, one major prize will be awarded each night of the bazaar, according to Mrs. Casper.

Mrs. Pinner to Speak At Garden Club Meet

Mrs. John Frost W. House will entertain the Princess Anne Garden Club with an oyster roast at her home at London Bridge Monday, October 11, at 12:30 p.m.

The regular meeting will follow with Mrs. Henry Pinner as guest speaker. Her subject will be "Marshall."

Rattle of "Bones" Barred From Boat House

Fox Restrained By Injunction Before Violation

Accused of participating in a dice game at the Piney Point Boat House on the night of September 19 that was interrupted by seven men, five men were indicted by a Princess Anne County Grand Jury Monday on misdemeanor charges.

Dudley Cooper, H. P. Elberidge, James Ray, listed as operator and manager of the Piney Point Boat Club, Jack G. Leachman and Frank Banks, according to the indictment, "unlawfully did bet and wager or play a game commonly called 'craps' in violation of Section 4885, of the Virginia Code, against the peace and dignity of the Commonwealth."

According to the Code, the accused face no minimum penalty, but the maximum is $100 fine or 30 days in jail, or both. Judge Floyd E. Kellam, whose instruction to the grand jury was said to have come as a surprise move, also granted an injunction, requested by Commonwealth's Attorney Paul W. Ackles in a bill of complaint filed last week against Grace Cannon Fox, listed as owner, and James Fox, operator and manager of the Piney Point Boat House. The injunction enjoins a criminal violation that it happens. If those restrained subsequently are convicted of violating the criminal laws they are enjoined against violating, they may also be held in contempt of court.

DEDICATION SET FOR SUNDAY—Pictured above is the new London Bridge Baptist Church, a brick structure of Colonial design, which will be dedicated Sunday, October 10, at 11 a.m. The new church replaces one burned in November, 1946. London Bridge is one of the oldest Baptist churches in Eastern Virginia, having been organized in May, 1764.

Dedication of New London Bridge Baptist Church Sunday Marks Milestone for Membership

The London Bridge Baptist Church, a brick structure of colonial design, located on the old London Bridge road, will be dedicated with appropriate services on Sunday, October 10, at 11 a.m.

The new church replaces the one burned in November, 1946, when the building and equipment were completely destroyed. The congregation was then given permission by the school board to hold their services in Oceana High School.

Designed by Bernard B. Spigel, Norfolk architect, and built under the supervision of C. T. Whitehead, of Oceana, the new building was completed in August of this year.

The Rev. Albert E. Simms, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church of Newport News will deliver the dedication sermon at the eleven o'clock service, with the pastor, the Rev. J. F. Stone, having an active part in the ceremony.

A brief history of the church will be given by Mrs. W. N. Jessup, while the recognition of gifts will be made by Mrs. J. D. Murden.

At the noon hour the church will serve dinner to those attending the services. At two o'clock in the afternoon the corner stone of the church will be laid with appropriate service, after which the Rev. P. Roland Wagner, pastor of Central Baptist Church, of Norfolk, will deliver an inspirational address.

London Bridge is one of the oldest Baptist churches in Eastern Virginia, having been organized in May, 1764.

During the long history of the church several of its young men have entered the ministry and it has been instrumental in the organization of other Baptist churches.

Among those who have served as pastors of the church are William Norris, Jeremiah Ritter, Frank Conder, Harrison H. Banks, A.

P. Repton, I. G. Council, J. A. Jopett, L. C. Brickhouse, Frank Clark, H. J. Clark, J. A. Sessions, Thomas A. Reid, James T. Eubanks, Samuel S. Robinson, E. B. Norris, A. W. Burdett, Paul B. Watlington, W. W. Sisk, J. D. Pyles, Mr. Hunley, W. L. Eggeeson, Walter P. Haislip, Frank B. Handley, J. Frank Ingram, Walter J. Meade, J. Lloyd Mauney, L. L. Jettus, and John F. Stone.

The new building is of colonial design with a seating capacity of approximately four hundred, with modern Sunday school facilities for cradle roll through adult departments. It is heated with radiant heat.

Under the leadership of the present pastor, the membership of the church and Sunday school has had a continuous growth. Its contributions to local and missionary work are the largest in the history of the church and the building has been completed with very little indebtedness.

No Large-Scale Expansion Planned At Fort Story; Selective Service Recruit Training Not In Prospect

Officer Says Only Limited Increase May Be Expected

Lt. C. K. Fleishman, public relations officer for Fort Story, said today that no large-scale expansion of personnel assigned to the Fort is expected, although there may be a small increase in the complement in the future.

Lt. Fleishman denied a report recently circulated in Virginia Beach to the effect that approximately 2,000 recruits are to be sent here for training under the recent Selective Service training program. He said the rumor probably sprang from recent orders to evacuate civilian personnel living within the Fort to make room for military personnel.

The order was issued, he said, because there is a need for housing for officers already stationed at Fort Story and to make room for any additional personnel who may be assigned. He repeated his previous statement that no large-scale expansion is expected, however, and said that any additional personnel would be assigned to the amphibious truck corps and would not be assigned for recruit training as planned under the Selective Service program.

First Fall Meeting Of Beach Garden Club Scheduled Wednesday

The first fall meeting of the Virginia Beach Garden Club is planned for Wednesday, October 12, in the home of Mrs. Seiden Grady, in Bay Colony.

Mrs. Emmett Kyle will be the principal speaker. Mrs. Floyd Dorsey will preside for the first time during her new term of office as president of the club.

Exhibit space for 4,000 poultry has been provided at the third annual Atlantic Rural Exposition in Richmond, October 4-9.

NOTICE

Notices warning the public to stay off the walkway along the seawall at the south end of the beach have been posted since the storm this week which has weakened the walkway in several places. Town Engineer Carroll Bonds said that while there may be no grave danger of the seawall collapsing, the public is asked to heed the warning signs until a survey can be made and damage repaired.

Lockwood Advocates Doubling Assessments to Raise Bond Issue

"Kick-Off" Dinner Tonight Opens Chest Fund Drive

The 1949 Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach Community Chest campaign for funds will be launched at a "kick-off" dinner at the Cavalier Hotel tonight. The dinner meeting will begin at 7 o'clock.

A goal of $12,000 has been set for this year's drive with one-half of the total assigned to the Town of Virginia Beach and the other half to be raised in Princess Anne County.

Fred A. Haycox, general chairman of the drive, stated that "Friday's meeting is designed to iron out any rough spots in the working organization so that actual canvassing might begin on schedule."

Mr. Haycox, basing his prediction on worker's pre-campaign interest, said he was confident that the goal would be surpassed in the allotted time.

Five agencies will participate in the proceeds from the 1949 fund. The agencies are the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, American Cancer Society, the Princess Anne Tuberculosis Association, and the Florence Crittenton Home.

William P. Kellam, Virginia Beach businessman, will head the Virginia Beach division of the drive. Mr. Kellam has not announced final plans for his group but is expected to do so tonight.

Officers of the 1949 Community Chest are E. H. Church, president; Grayson K. Willis, vice president; Frank W. Cox, secretary, and E. W. Smith, treasurer.

OES To Serve Supper At Temple October 14

The Virginia Beach chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star will serve a fried chicken and oyster supper Thursday, October 14, from 6 to 8 p.m., at the Masonic Temple, Arctic Avenue and 20th Street. The price for the dinner will be $1.25. The public is invited.

VFWC 6th District Clubs To Assemble In Cape Charles

Rev. Mr. Wagner to Deliver Address at Tuesday's Meeting

"Walk Abreast of Your Days" will be the theme of the Fall district meeting of the Sixth District of the Virginia Federation of Woman's Clubs October 12, in the Cape Charles Methodist Church at 10:30 a.m. The Rev. P. Rowland Wagner, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, Norfolk, will be the guest speaker.

Mrs. Charles W. Glenn, of Farmville, Virginia, junior vice president of the Virginia Federation, also will speak to the joint assembly on the topic, "Juniors Face the Future."

The Eastern Shore Woman's Club of Accomack County will be hostesses to the assembly. The Juniors of the Cape Charles Presbyterian Church will serve luncheon at 12:30 p.m.

Pungo Ferry Service Suspended 30 Days

Temporary suspension of service at Pungo ferry across Back Bay in lower Princess Anne County has been announced by the State Highway Department.

Route 190 at Pungo was closed to through traffic September 29 when repairs to ferry slips became necessary, a highway spokesman stated.

Service is expected to be resumed in about a month.

Says $100,000 Needed For School, Unknown Sum for Seawall

Reassessment of Virginia Beach's current taxable properties and a request for equalization of current property valuations are among several important issues to be discussed at Tuesday's meeting of the Virginia Beach Town Council, according to Town Manager Lawrence Lockwood.

Mr. Lockwood has explained his position regarding reassessment, saying that current assessments must be doubled in order to raise the bonded indebtedness to a sufficiently high level to meet the existing and immediate needs of the Town.

"Unless the present assessed values are doubled, the town will not be in a position to issue bonds in a sufficient amount to finance the major projects now needed or in immediate prospect," he said.

Revising his previous estimate, the town manager said that approximately $100,000 will be required to provide the school building plant needed for increased student population in the Willoughby T. Cooke School.

He said, also, that damage to the seawall during the recent heavy storm made it impossible to estimate the cost of needed repairs or of rebuilding the wall. Engineers have been making a survey of the damage and are expected to submit an estimate before Tuesday's meeting, he said. This is to be another of the major topics for discussion.

Enlargement of the sewage disposal plant and sewage lines is another of the projects it will be necessary to finance by floating an overall bond issue, Mr. Lockwood said.

"It is our hope," he said, "to issue bonds in a sufficient amount to take care of these improvements without increasing the total taxes which the people are now paying in the average case. If assessments are doubled, we can then lower the rate in proportion to the increase in assessments."

When asked whether an overall assessment would be levied in a specified percentage or whether individual properties would be surveyed for current valuations and an overall levy in a specified percentage then would be assessed, the town manager said that equalization of current property valuations would be requested by the council in connection with the proposed reassessment.

Members of the reassessment board appointed recently under legislative act are John B. Dey, H. Garrett Smith, Louis Dickens, W. T. Moore and William P. Crockett.

Birthday Luncheon Reservations Now Being Arranged

The Woman's Club of Princess Anne County will begin its Fall season with a birthday luncheon Wednesday, October 13, at 12:30 p.m., in Pine Tree Inn. Mrs. G. C. Manson, president of the club, will preside, and Mrs. Kermel Land, vice president, will present the program.

Mrs. A. E. Ewell, the first president of the club, will be the principal speaker. Mrs. George Abbe, and Mrs. Charles Hiteaux will have charge of the music program, and Mrs. Frank Cox, chairman of the membership committee, will present the new members.

Mrs. Nita McMenamin, chairman of the garden committee, assisted by Mrs. DeLoon King, will be in charge of decorations. Mrs. Ira Knight will make the invocation.

It has been announced that reservations may be secured from Mrs. Douglas Wilson.

THE POT'S BOILING

This year, as traditionally, Labor Day week-end marked the beginning of the presidential campaign fire. There will now be little rest for the contestants, their more active supporters, or the public until after November 2.

The purpose of the two month's political slugfest to which we Americans are treated every four years, ostensibly is to give us all the facts so that we can vote "on the record." We can expect, however, along with the truth and the facts, many statements and much shadow-boxing which serve only to confuse the real issues.

A perfect example of this developed during the past week when Charlie Brannan, the Denver Democrat and lawyer now turned Secretary of Agriculture, trumped-up a charge that the opposition is out to scuttle farm price supports.

Charlie got some headlines out of it, but we don't think his statements will stir up much apprehension among rural Americans. We like to study the record, weigh the party platforms, judge the statements of the candidates themselves, and most of all, consider their score on the keeping of promises.

As for the record, the fact remains that a Republican Congress has just enacted a farm program retaining price supports and providing for their future continuance.

Republicans then moved into Philadelphia three weeks ahead of Charlie's folks, and adopted a convention platform calling for "effective protection" of reasonable market prices through guaranteed supports, commodity loans and other means. Democrats took about the same position when they got around to it.

It seems to us the important thing will be what Mr. Dewey and Mr. Truman themselves have to say on this subject of price supports when they really get into the campaign. Then we'll have it from the horse's mouth. We'll measure those statements against their records on the matter of honoring campaign pledges and come pretty close to a decision on how we'll vote.

In the meantime, let's consider the statements of the Charlie Brannans and other such lesser spokesmen in the light of their purpose—to make the headlines.

A TIME FOR RACIAL UNDERSTANDING AND RESTRAINT

(Reprinted from the September issue of The Progressive Farmer)
White people and colored people have long worked on Southern farms in peace and friendship.

They must continue to do so.

The next few months promise to test the bonds of friendship between the races here in the South as they have never been tested before. Northern extremists will seek to spur Southern Negroes into dangerous demagogic attitudes. Neither effort should succeed.

It is a time when each race should seek to understand the other. Our white people must give heed to the Negro's appeal for safety and justice. Negroes should understand that real progress will come only by gradual evolution, not by revolution.

Our Negroes, for example, should remember that our Southern white people did not invent slavery. It was a custom brought down from Bible times and beyond. And while much cruelty was inevitable under such a system, the folk songs of the South and our family traditions show how often master and slave lived in a friendship such as finds beautiful expression in "Massa's in the Cold, Cold Ground" and "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia."

But slavery was wrong. And though nearly all the writer's antebellum kin were slaveholders, not even in our boyhood did we ever hear a Southerner express a wish that slavery could have been continued. And if the average Southern Negro's lot has been hard since emancipation, so has the lot of most Southern white small farmers, sharecroppers and tenants. Both races have suffered from an unbalanced one-crop agriculture, time prices usury, inadequate schools, and other evils. But both groups have made progress.

"Never has any race made greater progress in 80 years than the Negro has made since emancipation," someone has said. If so, this is a tribute both to the ability of Southern Negroes and the cooperation they have had from the great majority of our Southern white people. We grant that this cooperation has not been all it might have been. But when one contrasts the average Southerner's friendly treatment of Negroes with the indefensibly harsh treatment of American Indians, the difference is astounding.

It has been the proud boast of white Southerners that "the Negro's best friends are in the South." But if we are to continue to justify that boast, we must make faster progress in giving our Negroes better homes, better schools, better health conditions, greater economic opportunity, greater equality before the law. A social mingling, a great Negro educator, Booker T. Washington, 50 years ago said of the two races, "We can be separate as the fingers socially, but as united as the hand in working together to help each other and the South."

In this time of peculiar stress and turmoil we beg each race to try to understand the other . . . that each refuse to follow its violent and extreme leadership . . . and that each of us try to do a little more than usual to show our friendship for all deserving persons of the other race.

Remember when there was only one car in a garage instead of two families?

THE AMERICAN WAY

A QUIET ROMANTIC HEART

By Dr. Norman Vincent Peale

(Editor's Note: Dr. Peale is minister of historic Marble Collegiate Church on Fifth Avenue, New York City; and author of the current best seller, "A Guide to Confident Living.")

Perhaps some days when this country is much older we will have acquired the timeless wisdom of the East. While I am not too well acquainted with people who live in oriental countries, I know enough of them and about them to realize that the quiet heart is one of their supreme achievements.

A friend told me that one time in China he saw an old Chinese farmer going along with a stick over his shoulder on which was a pot filled with soy-bean soup. Somebody jostled him, the jar fell off his stick, fell to the ground and broke into a hundred pieces. The old farmer kept going right along.

A man rushed up to him and excitedly said, "Didn't you know that your jar broke?"

"Yes," the old farmer answered, "I know. I heard it fall."

"Well, why didn't you turn around and do something about it?"

"It's broken, isn't it? The soup is gone. What can I do about it?"

How right that Chinese farmer was! Why waste energy on something that cannot be helped? Go right along. That is why such people live to a great age, their blood pressure never goes up and their heart action is always under control. They have a quietness in their hearts, because they have a quiet heart. They develop a deep and profound philosophy that there is no use in getting excited about something about which they can do nothing. They have a deep trusting faith in the everlasting presence of the Eternal.

The reason many of us are not able to solve our problems (or arrive at the wrong solution) is simply because we are so agitated inside, so torn up, so disturbed that the mental processes do not correlate. Restlessly we seek for somebody to solve our problems. No one is ever going to solve your problems for you. You must solve them yourself in the center of a quiet mind. When you have achieved this sense of tranquility, you can say "God has put quietness in my heart."

Another thing which may at first seem to be a little removed from religion, is that when you have quietness in your heart you have romance in your heart. Do not misunderstand the meaning of the word romance. There are connotations to the word romance that are higher and more important than those ascribed to it by Hollywood. That kind of romance is all right but it is not the essence of life. What I mean by romance is the glory and wonderment of life itself. It is to be so free and released in your heart and mind that you thrill to life to your very finger tips.

There are some unfortunate people who are so dull that to them the simple beautiful curvature of a line means nothing, to whom a shadow falling down through the leaves on to a green stretch of lawn means nothing, to whom a misty haze of blue falling over the hills at twilight has no meaning. They have lost the fresh, fine, careless rapture with which life should be filled.

These poor people have not learned the art of living. My advice to them is to yield themselves to God. He, if they will let Him, will reach into their hearts and put a quietness there. Then they too will have quiet and romantic hearts. They will have learned one of life's greatest lessons—how to make life a wonderful experience.

Dailey Does 'Em

By Daphne Dailey, Special

Correspondent, VPA News Service

(Editor's Note: The following is a correspondence from Daphne Dailey, Special Correspondent of the Virginia Press Ass. News Service, who is making a tour of England, Scotland, France, and other places of interest this Summer. The following is from France.)

Nice—This is a tourist heaven, French and foreign. The Mediterranean is as blue as they say, flocks of sulphur motes dotted to the hills. Under moonlight it becomes black and silver to grace the jeweled cities.

From Marseille via Toulon the highway from St. Raphael and Cannes to Nice is cut in rock between sky and sea. It is as curving as the route of the Smokies, and in the hands of Providence and a French driver—the turns are breath-taking. Around each point of land is another panorama of green hills dotted with red tile roofs, blue sky, blue water and sail boats. The colors are so vivid that one feels this is a Hollywood set complete with flowers, walls and olive trees. In any minute Charles Boyer will be standing on the terrace.

Cannes has an appearance of being most aloof of the Riviera sisters, but Nice, too, has beauty. About 250,000 population, the city rests against a hill and extends her arms along a small bay shoreline. The main promenade is along the sea, with a beach unfortunately rocky, beside palms and luxuriant sidewalk oaks. Both history and the bustle of city work are over-shadowed by the business of being resort visitors enjoy a holiday. Everywhere is the color of summer and sunshine, helped along by this year's French bathing suits which surely are the briefest possible.

In hotels, as in others in France, there apparently is an abundance of food. Breakfast includes fruit (peaches and pears) or eggs and bacon, marmalade, margarine, and dark bread, and something called coffee. Luncheon offers, for example, mutton, fish, roast beef, potatoes and fruit. Dinner may bring mutton, fish, veal, French beans, ice cream (not much cream) or peas. Wine in abundance is from under $1.00 a bottle to $1.50 or $2.00 to about $3.00 for champagne. There are dozens of shops, from cheap to very expensive, and of course, there is gambling at Monte Carlo and other Casinos.

Like all resorts, this playtime life is not everyday existence for the mass of the people, but, if it were, one hardly could begrudge it for many of the rationed, stunted and battered Europeans. Unfortunately, they must take more modest holidays.

What makes this completely different from Virginia Beach or Miami is the ever frequent question from street strangers, "Any American dollars to sell?"

Behind the Scenes in American Business

By Reynolds Knight

New York—Anyone doing any traveling these days will discover that the nation's railroads have been adding a great deal of new passenger equipment.

Since V-J Day three years ago, contract car builders have delivered 1,521 new passenger cars to Class I roads. This figure does not include the two complete trains produced by the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing Company for the New York Central System's magnificent new Twentieth Century sections which began their runs between New York and Chicago last week.

The figure of 1,521 new passenger cars in three years represents an average of more than 500 cars a year. It also is considerably more than double the rate at which new railroad passenger cars were ordered in ten representative pre-war years.

In the period from 1929 to 1940, for instance, the annual output rate for passenger cars varied between 200 and 250. Granted that some of the present production is due to pentup demand, it still remains an impressive figure.

Of the 1,521 passenger cars delivered in the last three years, 822 or 53 per cent were produced by Pullman-Standard.

THINGS TO COME—A radio

just placed on the market is only the size of a pack of cigarettes, yet it has three tubes, a range of 1,500 miles and operates for 30 hours on two tiny batteries. The set uses earphones which, with an antenna, are plugged into the top of the Junior juke box for children plays records and lights up like the real thing. . . . Flashlight has ivory colored case that glows phosphorescent in the dark. . . . Plastic coating applied like paint to wood floors is said to eliminate the need for scrubbing, rubbing or polishing. . . . Aluminum nails are now being marketed in six types and sixteen different sizes. . . . Latest in food mixes makes brownies. Another product soon to be sold in grocery stores is canned "seaburgers"—fish cakes all ready for frying. . . . Fire resistant paint is now available. . . . New line of key-in-the-knob locks for homes can be assembled in 30 seconds. . . . Circular saw attachment is being made for electric drills.

BITS O' BUSINESS—Personal incomes are now at the rate of $215 billion annually and the gross national product has reached the rate of $250 billion a year. . . . Industry is consuming seven million tons of steel each month. . . . Supplies of building materials will be slightly better in 1943 than they were in 1942, according to the Department of Commerce, but there still will be shortages. . . . Farm income is almost certain to be lower in 1943. . . . Corporate profits are leveling off in some industries. . . . U. S. oil supplies so far in 1943 have increased 9.3 per cent over last year. It was reported by John W. Boatwright of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). . . . Great Lakes vessels carried a record peacetime volume of 23.6 million tons of ore, coal and grain in August, against 21.7 million tons handled in the like period last year.

Delabar To Manage N. & W. Coal Bureau

M. T. Delabar, former assistant district manager of the Norfolk and Western Railway's Chicago and Western Railway's Chicago coal bureau, has been appointed manager of the railway's coal bureau at Winston-Salem, N. C., effective October 1. He succeeds G. A. Morris, who resigned to become district manager of the Virginia Smokeless Coal Company's office in Cincinnati.

Mr. Delabar's Chicago successor is Carey A. Maynard, Jr., formerly a stenographer-clerk in the bureau there. The railway announced at the same time that R. T. Hairston, stenographer-clerk at Winston-Salem, has been promoted to assistant district manager of the Detroit coal bureau.

After working for seven years in the engineering department of the Clinchfield Coal Corporation at Dante, Va., and operating his own coal business for a short time in Roanoke, Mr. Delabar joined the N. & W. in April, 1935, at the Roanoke freight station. In 1933, he transferred to the Traffic Department, and worked in the coal bureau at Boston, the General Western Freight Agent's office at Chicago and the coal bureaus in Detroit and Chicago. He became assistant manager in Chicago in May, 1938.

Mr. Maynard joined the N. & W. in 1931 as a stenographer-clerk in the Winston-Salem Coal Bureau, later serving in the Boston and Chicago offices in the same capacity.

Mr. Hairston went to work in the traffic department of the railroad at Roanoke in 1942 and transferred to Winston-Salem later in the same year. He was on military furlough for two years.

'Coffee-Houser' New Name To Denote Cheater At Bridge

Petty larcenists of the bridge table can make your friendly evening of bridge costly if you are not wise to their wiles.

Known to modern bridge players as "coffee housers," they employ sly stratagems for cheating which virtually defy detection, according to an article in the October issue of Cosmopolitan magazine.

"Contract bridge cannot be a purely abstract science," the article states in part. "The physical and emotional composition of people make it virtually impossible for a hand to be played without the players obtaining more information than can be gained from the bids and the fall of the cards."

"There is a type of player who takes advantage of this fact. He uses the line of demarcation between natural emotional reaction and histrionics to so vague that no one will notice when he puts on over. This fellow has become known as a 'coffee-houser'."

The term "coffee-houser" derives from the 19th century custom of playing cards in the back rooms of English pubs and coffee houses.

"The very 'to coffee-house' and the nouns 'coffee house' and 'coffee house' have been chosen by the inner circle of contract bridge players today to describe a certain large group of petty larcenists of the card table," the article explains. "The coffee houser does not violate any national, or state laws, nor does he even deviate, strictly speaking, from the laws of contract bridge. A 'coffee-houser' is any extracurricular act, remark, mannerism or voice intonation that has as its deliberate objective either assisting one's partner or deceiving one's opponents. The only defense against coffee-house ethics is not to play where they are employed—unless you are a master of the art yourself."

WANT LOW COST HEAT?

Cut Fuel Costs up to 25% with a Duo-THERM
Royal Heater with Power-Air Blower

Why track coal and ashes through the house when you can heat without work or dirt, as you cut fuel oil costs up to 25%? Here's how the Duo-Therm Royal Heater does it:

1. Power-Air Heater keeps more warm air in circulation—saves up to a full gallon of fuel oil out of every 4 you buy! Only Duo-Therm has Power-Air.
2. Duo-Therm's Exclusive Burner mixes air and fuel oil in just the right amounts for clean performance. You get more heat from every drop of oil. No moving parts—it's utterly silent!
3. A Special Waste Stopper is built right into every Duo-Therm. This fuel saving device helps transfer more heat into your home.
4. Finger tip control dial assures you workless, dirtless heat. You just twist the dial and get heat to order. A real money saver in changeable climates.

In addition to the Royal model (shown above) we have a fine line of furniture style cabinet models, made exclusively by Duo-Therm. Drop in. Select the Duo-Therm that will do the best job for you.

If you have trouble luring your family away from the funnies and sports pages on Sunday mornings, try serving these temptors for breakfast. They'll make even Dick Tracy and the latest scores take a back seat!

APPETITE AWAKENER

Brightest breakfast idea in a month of Sundays . . . French Toast Logs made like this: Break 2 eggs into shallow dish; beat lightly with fork; add 1½ cups of milk and ½ tsp. salt. Cut crusts from 12 slices of tender-textured, oven-fresh MAR-VELE ENRICHED WHITE BREAD from the A&P. Dip each slice into egg mixture. Brown lightly on both sides in hot fat in heavy skillet. Spread with preserves, and roll. 6 servings.

FRY THIS FOR SHOWS!

To make small fry finish their farins . . . and sigh for seconds . . . fry ANN PAGE MELLON'S WHEAT FARINA from the A&P. Cook 1 cup of this pure, refined wheat cereal in 1 quart of boiling salted water to a thick mush. Pour into small loaf pan; chill; turn out and cut into five or six ½-inch slices. Dip in seasoned flour and fry to a golden brown in hot skillet with bacon or sausage fat. Serve with jelly, preserves, syrup.

JAM SESSION

I could eat jam-filled baked apples for breakfast Sunday, Monday or all days. To prepare them, I core medium-sized apples, place them in a baking dish, and fill each cavity with 1 tsp. of A&P's luscious ANN PAGE GRAPE JAM. Then I cover the bottom of the pan with water and bake in a moderate oven, 375° F., 30 minutes, or till the apples are soft, basting occasionally with the liquid in the pan.

VOICE YOUR CHOICE!

One of the nicest things about Sunday is that it gives you leisure to enjoy all the coffee you want. And one of the nicest things about A&P COFFEE is that it gives you the exact blend you want. There are 12 different blends to choose from . . . EIGHT O'CLOCK (mild), RED CIRCLE (medium) and BOKAL (strong). Discover your favorite today . . . have it Custom Ground when you buy it, just right for your coffee pot . . . and wake up to coffee that tastes better every day in the week!

California Wine Colors Inspire West Coast Fashion Designers

Ladies Bowling League Announces Captains, Sponsors

At a meeting of the Virginia Beach Ladies Bowling League held Wednesday night, President Dot Conrades announced the following team captains and sponsors: Community House: Shirley Gillen; Beau Jack: Anna Vokos; Seaside Seafood: Alice Alton; Princess Anne Florist: Evelyn MacIver; Minton's: Dot Wade; Fuel & Feed: Marjorie Fisher; Harry's "The Spot": Jean Garvin; Tidewater Gas Co.: Louise Mears; Colonial Club: Ruth Bykes; Colonial Ready to Wear: Hilda Goad; M. & M. Lynnhaven: Eloise Merkle; Shelby's: Jackie Wolcott; Harrell's: Betty Barling; Va. Beach Hardware: Cecelia May.

Miss Conrades also announced Wednesday nights will be official bowling nights and game time is 8 o'clock.

Members of 4-H and F. F. A. clubs from Virginia and other states will be given special recognition in judging contests at the Atlantic Rural Exposition in Richmond on "Junior's Day," October 5.

In their constant search for new ideas in color and design, American fashion creators are learning to look to their own country for inspiration.

This is shown in models now being created by California designers who have found that the richness of true wine colors reminiscent of the famous wines and vineyards of their own state can hold their own with the color ideas that formerly were conceived during trips to foreign lands.

This fall, many California designers have selected various intriguing wine shades as the basic colors of their collections. Among the new tones which are widely favored are Punched Brown, Golden Sherry, Wine Green, Sauternes Yellow, Muscatel Lavender, Ruby Port, Claret Red, Vintage Purple and Burgundy, Punched Brown and Wine Green appear to be among the most popular this season.

With National Wine Week scheduled for October 9-16, several leading California designers are planning their collections to capture the spirit of the colorful vintage event through the artful use of wine tones.

One of these is Stephanie Koret, whose designs are seen under the Koret of California label. She has selected a group of wine colors for her fall collection of "separates." Called "Vineyard Pair-Offs," Stephanie's collection is particularly noteworthy because it employs mix-and-match practically throughout. As almost a common denominator, a solid wine color is paired-off with a contrasting print or plaid.

She has given further importance to the wine colors by employing her fabrics to accent color above style. This has been accomplished by using bands of solid color on skirts and jackets to contrast with the basic color design. In keeping with the fashion-rightness of styles, Stephanie Koret has created much of her collection around wine color solids to set off the multi-colored plaids and prints.

John E. Midgett Aboard USS Orion

John E. Midgett, fireman, USN, of Route 1, Virginia Beach, is serving aboard the submarine tender USS Orion which has just been awarded the Battle Efficiency Pennant and "E" for her general excellence throughout the fiscal year July 1, 1947 to July 1, 1948.

The award is a competitive one, based on overall battle efficiency. Each department of the ship is graded to determine the vessel's final mark in the competition.

The pennant is a red triangle with a black circle in the center and is therefore termed a "meatball." In addition to the "meatball" each enlisted man having served on board the Orion for at least six months of the competition year is entitled to wear an "E" on the sleeve of his uniform and receives a cash award as well. This is an old peacetime practice in the Navy revived with this recent award.

Schools Asked To Include Stamp Saving During School Year 1948-49

C. H. Edwards, State Director, U. S. Savings Bonds Division of the Treasury, asked for the cooperation of school officials and parents today in making possible the saving of money through the purchase of Savings Stamps by school children. The advantages of such a program are so many and the habits acquired and the lessons learned so important that it is hoped all children will be placed in the position of being able to take advantage of this opportunity. Letters have been sent to all school officials.

According to the State Director, the amount saved weekly is of importance, but the real objective of the program is the participating of every child with the idea in mind of inculcating the habit of thrift and the management of money.

"We have to learn to crawl before we can walk, and the same is true of handling money," Mr. Edwards said. He pointed out that "what seems very childish to us is, and should be, fairly complicated to the normal child. It is a program that is high in tangibility that would seem to be very desirable," Mr. Edwards added.

"There is a saying in the Naval service that 'Many hands make light work.' Many millions of dollars were raised by children through school stamp saving programs during the war, and the habit of thrift was inculcated in the make-up of many millions of children. It is hoped this will remain with them always. Thrift and the management of money by individuals is becoming increasingly important, and it would seem the younger children are the more easily impressed and the matter of time is on their side. We do not easily shake old habits of years standing," concluded Mr. Edwards.

Exhibitors may make carload shipments of livestock direct to the grounds of Atlantic Rural Exposition, Richmond. Depot facilities have been added by the C. & O. Railway.

There is no such thing as a "permanent highway." An old road wears out every five to seven years and must be resurfaced.

"Northern Virginia Peninsula Day" has been officially set at the Atlantic Rural Exposition for October 4. It embraces the area between the Potomac and York rivers in eastern Virginia.

Princess Anne Farmers To Get USDA Information

Princess Anne County cotton growers and others who want to keep abreast of developments in cotton and cottonseed marketing are assured of plenty of help again this season from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, County Agent H. W. Oslin said here this week.

The agent disclosed that the cotton branch of USDA's Production and Marketing Administration has inaugurated the Farmers' Weekly Cotton Price Report which may be used in determining the approximate price of various grades and staple lengths of cotton at marketing time.

He also listed the following services, designed to keep interested persons informed on current developments in the cotton market, crop progress, and quality.

The Weekly Cotton Market Review, issued every Friday during the ginning season, provides up-to-date reports on what happened in the cotton markets during the week, plus information on production, both on a national scale and in the Southeast.

The Grade and Staple Report, issued twice monthly during the marketing season, supplies information on the grades and staple

USDA Calls For High Level Poultry, Egg Production

Continued high-level production of eggs and spring vegetables is recommended by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in 1948 production goals just released to R. B. Bridgforth, chairman, Production and Marketing Administration State Committee. The goals for individual commodities are being announced as the goals committees complete their work for the new commodity seasons. All production goals or guides recommended by the department lengths of the year's cotton production, as ginned, with comparisons between this year's crop and those of past seasons.

The Cottonseed Review, issued weekly, lists the grades and prices of cottonseed, by states and counties.

These reports are available free on request, and persons wishing to receive them, Mr. Oslin said, should write direct to: Cotton Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, 441 West Peachtree Street, Atlanta, Ga. In requesting these reports, each one should be listed by name. If all four reports are desired, requesters should so indicate.

are referred to USDA State Committees for consideration.

To assure an abundance of eggs to meet high market demand, which is partially due to high meat prices, the department recommends that farmers of the nation carry into next year the maximum number of hens and pullets consistent with good poultry management practices. Regional variations in culling trends and practices are recognized by the goal recommendations.

The suggested national goal calls for 425 million hens and pullets on farms on January 1, 1949. This would mean retaining on farms a larger proportion of the summer flocks than in recent years—15 per cent of the number in August 1 compared with 11 per cent last year, when feed supplies were reduced by bad weather.

With 435 million hens and pullets, abundant feed supplies, and good management, the nation's poultry producers can expect to supply U. S. consumers with at least as many eggs per person as in 1948 and to meet all non-civilian requirements, department officials said. Pointing up the importance of reaching the goal, they said that a difference of one million hens and pullets would mean a difference of one egg per U. S. consumer.

In 1947 and 1948 U. S. consumers averaged 380 eggs apiece compared with their prewar average of 298.

As to spring vegetables, the department is recommending that farmers in the 17 producing states seed a total acreage in 1949 equal to that of 1948 but with some variations among crops in line with recent marketing experience and demand outlook. The suggested total acreage is 498,184, which with average yields would produce a slightly greater tonnage of vegetables than in 1948 and considerably more than the average for last periods.

Recommended acreage increases are: beets and carrots, 20 per cent; lima beans, 15 per cent; snap beans, 10 per cent; onions and green peas, 7 per cent; shallots, 5 per cent.

The recommended acreage for spring cabbage is 3 per cent lower than the 1948 acreage, but with average yields the recommended acreage would produce as much or more cabbage than in 1948. Spring cabbage prices declined seriously last year, with the late spring crop selling 35 per cent lower than 1947.

For early spring tomatoes, the recommended acreage is the same as that of 1949. For late spring tomatoes, the recommended acreage is the same as in 1948 except in areas where a large increase has occurred and where serious marketing difficulties threatened producers in 1948 before dry weather cut yields.

No acreage changes have been recommended for the spring crops of cantaloupes, cucumbers, lettuce, spinach and watermelons.

The 1949 winter vegetable acre-

Keep From Between Parked Cars, TAA Vice President Dey Warns

Eight reasons why pedestrians, especially school children, should avoid crossing streets from between parked cars were cited today by John B. Dey, vice president of the Tidewater Automobile Association, in announcing distribution of "Keep From Between Parked Cars" posters and accompanying AAA lesson units for teachers in the club's safety educational program.

"One out of every six pedestrians in the 14-16 age group killed and injured annually in traffic meets death while coming from between parked cars, thus making instruction in schools regarding the extreme hazard of not going to the corner to cross streets most important," Mr. Dey said. "While school children have this especially serious record, it is also a practice by older pedestrians that leads to death or injury for many. These persons may walk or run into the street intending to cross at that time, or in the case of children, they may be trying to retrieve a ball or some other playthings that has rolled into the street."

"Eight reasons why the rule 'Keep From Between Parked Cars' should be observed are:

"It violates the traffic laws;
"The pedestrian may not see approaching cars;

"The pedestrian is crossing without the aid of a traffic light or other signal, or a policeman;
"The pedestrian is usually in a hurry when he does not walk to the corner and may not be careful;

"The driver is not expecting a pedestrian to appear from between parked cars;

"The driver may be driving more rapidly in the middle of the block and may not be able to stop quickly;

"The car may skid if the driver tries to stop too quickly;
"The car may hit an innocent age guides were announced last July, and recommendations will be made later in regard to summer and fall crops and vegetables for processing.

Make Your Home More Do LIGHT ful!

—with planned lighting!

—with adequate wiring!

—with Certified lamps!

GOOD LIGHTING is not only an investment in seeing comfort and eyesight protection... but a way of making your home more attractive, as well!

Good lighting begins with good planning. Different activities—sewing, reading, kitchen tasks, good grooming and many other things require specialized, localized lighting. But it's equally important to have good general lighting to prevent the eyestrain that comes from too much contrast. Adequate wiring, providing enough outlets for smart portable lamps, is the life-line of your entire lighting plan.

Handsome Certified Lamps, which give you 50% to 100% more light at no extra cost are both efficient and decorative!

We Ford Dealers know Ford's best!

It makes good sense to have your car serviced regularly. The wise motorist makes it a habit to have his car lubricated every 1000 miles, and a complete "Physical Exam" every 5000 miles.

Take a look at your Ford's speedometer, today. If it's nearing a "5000"-mile reading, bring it "home" to us for your Ford's "Physical"—which includes a thorough engine, ignition, electrical, wheel and brake check... and a complete inspection of the body, inside and out.

When you make it a habit to let us check your Ford regularly, you're sure to get top performance that's built into your car. It's the right way to the "little things" that can develop and make driving unsafe. You'll be surprised how much money you'll save throughout the life of your Ford, with regular Ford care.

Your Ford Dealer invites you to listen to the Ford Ad on Show, Sunday, 10:00 a.m.—12:00 p.m. See your newspaper for time and place.

Harding, the "Tar Heel Humorist," will be guest speakers before approximately 400 Princess Anne County farmers and their wives, attending the annual meeting and banquet of the Princess Anne County Farm Bureau Tuesday, October 12, at 5:30 p.m. at the City Farm, near Norfolk.

Grayson M. Whitehurst, president of the Farm Bureau, said today that other invited guests will include Delegate Harry B. Davis, of the Virginia Legislature; Maurice A. Hubbard, executive secretary of the Virginia Farm Bureau; H. G. Blalock, Farm Bureau president; A. L. Glascock, president of the Nansemond County Farm Bureau; Basil M. Wood, president of the Norfolk County Farm Bureau; L. B. Wilkins, Norfolk County agent; R. B. Bridgforth, chairman of the Production and Marketing Association; members of the Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors and others.

Mr. Whitehurst said that Farm Bureau members have been requested to invite their neighbors who are not members.

A short business session will be conducted after the banquet, Mr. Whitehurst said.

Disabled Veterans Now Eligible For New Allowances

Veterans rated 60 per cent or more disabled from military service may apply now for new monthly allowances for dependents, if they have not done so already, the Veterans Administration has announced.

To qualify for the increase, VA said, veterans must submit acceptable proof of dependency and relationship to the Veterans Administration handling their files. Certified copies of birth certificates for children or certified copies of marriage certificates for new brides are sufficient in most cases, VA explained.

New monthly allowances ranging up to $91 a month were authorized by the 80th Congress for seriously disabled veterans with dependents. The extra benefits became effective September 1.

From where I sit . . . by Joe Marsh

Get The Truth!

Called on my good friend "Cappy" Miller, who edits the County News, the other day, and hanging up on the wall of Cappy's office is this slogan for his paper:

"Remember there are two sides to every question. Get both sides. Be truthful."

A good slogan . . . not just for a newspaper—for people, too. Because there'll always be two sides to every question: the side of those who vote one way, and those who vote another—the side of those who enjoy a temperate beverage like beer or ale, and of those who swear by nothing but cider. And from where I sit, once you've got both sides—and faced them truthfully, you realize that those differences of opinion are a precious part of what we call Democracy—the right of the individual to vote as he believes, to speak his mind, to choose his own beverage of moderation, whether beer or cider.

Chairman Asks for Complete Community Chest Quota by end of Week's Solicitation

Hatchett Reports Donations Being Received By Mail

Using his campaign slogan, "Here's to Health and Happiness," Fred A. Haycox, general chairman, opened this year's Community Chest kick-off dinner. Mr. Haycox further explained his slogan by enumerating the various organizations that the local fund will help sponsor this year.

The goal for 1948 has been set at $12,000; half to be solicited in Virginia Beach and the remaining half in the other sections of Princess Anne County. William P. Kellam, chairman for Virginia Beach, announced that of the $6,000 quota, $3,500 will be solicited from the business section and $2,500 from residential districts of the town.

William F. Hudgins, chairman for the county, announced the following quotas for his area: Lynnhaven, $1,500; Kempsville, $2,500; Seaboard, $800; Pungo-Creeds, $500; Army-Navy, $700.

The participating agencies included in this year's budget are the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, The American Cancer Society, Princess Anne County Tuberculosis Association and the Florence Crittenden Home.

Following his opening address, Mr. Haycox called on Mayor Patton, who endorsed the campaign in behalf of the Town Council of Virginia Beach; Claude Bell, president of the Lions Club; Lawrence Lockwood, Town Manager; Col. J. C. Brady, Kempsville District; Mrs. W. P. Kellam, president of the Junior Woman's Club; James Cuzzy, E. H. Church, Grayson Willis, R. H. Owens, and other representatives of civic and business organizations in Princess Anne County, each giving his wholehearted support to the drive.

In closing, the general chairman expressed his belief that the drive would be over the top in half the allotted time, October 15 through 31.

County 4-H Club Members Make Excellent Showing At State Fair

Frances Mae Williams Leads County Group In Prizes Won

Princess Anne County 4-H Club members who sent exhibits to the Atlantic Rural Exposition in Richmond tallied 16 first prizes, 1 second prize and 2 third prizes, according to H. W. Ozlin, county agent. This impressive array of prizes bespeaks the hard work and conscientiousness of 4-H boys and girls in the county.

Frances Mae Williams, of Creeds Junior 4-H Club, led the county's representation with six first prizes: White Rock cock and hen and androstep pen, hen, pullet and cockerel.

Clark Baum, of Center 4-H Club, exhibiting White Leghorns, ranked next with four first places: pen, pullet and cockerel.

Edward Redfern, of the Oceana Junior Club, won first prizes on hen, pen and cockerel and second prize on pullet with his Rhode Island Reds.

Donald Wenger, of the Center 4-H Club, won seconds on Barded Rock pen and pullet and seconds on White Leghorn hen and cock.

Lankford Malbon, of the Creeds Senior Club, won first on Porto Rico sweet potatoes, and Walton Brumley, of the same club, won second.

Merritt Hollman won first for his garden vegetable basket, with Johnny McCleod second and Edward Wright third, all of the Oceana Senior Club. Johnny McCleod also won first on his basket of vegetables for storage.

Lankford Malbon won third place with his exhibit of Irish Cobbler potatoes.

Ira Fisk of the Kempsville Junior; Floyd Bonney, Floyd Waterfield, Cecil Simpson and Clark Whitehurst, of Creeds Junior, and Walton Brumley, of Creeds Senior club also sent exhibits.

James Haywood Jones

Funeral services were conducted from the Cox Funeral Home, Norfolk, Thursday at 2 p.m. for James Haywood Jones, 11, son of Elmond J. and Mrs. Gladys Jones, of 50 1/2 19th Street, who died Monday at a Lynchburg hospital. Services were conducted by the Rev. Ira D. S. Knight, pastor of the Virginia Beach Baptist Church, and interment was in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Besides his parents, survivors include two sisters, Helen Jean and Barbara Ann Jones, of Virginia Beach; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jones, Johnson County, N. C., and his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Jones, of Denbigh.

Formal Opening Of Virginia Beach Hospital Sunday

Sunday afternoon will mark the formal opening of the Virginia Beach Hospital, according to announcement by Dr. H. F. Dornier.

Though in use for most of the Summer and early Fall, the new facilities have been in the process of completion.

Doctors Dornier, Taylor and Todd will be present Sunday afternoon and night to introduce the hospital staff and to show the various facilities of the establishment to visitors. Hours are from 3 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. The open house is being held to familiarize residents of the community with its operation and organization.

Notice of Hearing At Court House

Col. James Derby, Army Engineer, has announced that a hearing on the Kempville Project will be held at Princess Anne Court House on October 20 at 10 a.m. for the purpose of discussing the various plans for drainage control in the county. Several plans have been set forth for relieving such conditions and it is the opinion of Col. Derby that commercial interests in the area will be affected and all interested parties are requested to be present at the hearing.

Town Council Approves Lockwood Plan For Reassessment of Beach Real Estate

Colonial Stores' Fire Loss Less Than First Report

The loss resulting from the fire which destroyed Colonial Stores' warehouse in Durham, North Carolina, early last Friday morning was not as heavy as first reported, according to a statement by Scott W. Allen, the Company's president. After a careful appraisal, the loss in merchandise and fixtures has been tentatively determined to be between $1,250,000 and $1,500,000. This loss was covered by insurance. The warehouse building, owned by the North Carolina Warehouse Corporation, was leased by Colonial.

Fortunately, due to the location of other company warehouses, Mr. Allen continued, there will be no interruption in the supply of merchandise to the stores formerly serviced by the Durham warehouse. Regular scheduled deliveries were started to these stores from the company's warehouses at Norfolk and Richmond, Virginia, and Greenville, South Carolina, within twelve hours after the fire. All stores will continue to receive ample stocks of all merchandise, including perishables, regularly carried.

Contrary to early reports, all trucks and other delivery equipment were saved. This equipment has been diverted to the Norfolk, Richmond and Greenville warehouses where it is being employed to make regularly scheduled deliveries to the stores formerly served by the Durham warehouse, thus assuring a continued and adequate supply of merchandise.

Junior Woman's Club Business Meeting To Be Tuesday Night

The regular business meeting of the Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County is scheduled for Tuesday night, October 19, at 8:00 p.m. in the Town Hall.

The organization has been called on to assist in the Community Chest Drive again this year. Under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. D. W. Cassada, the club will canvass the residential sections of the town.

Mrs. Walter Parker has requested members to start collecting old toys which can be repaired for use in Christmas welfare work.

The Fine Arts Department will sponsor its first book review luncheon at the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club on Wednesday, November 3, with Mrs. J. E. Addenbrook as speaker.

Virginia Beach Town Manager Lawrence Lockwood introduced to the Town Council at its meeting Tuesday a resolution for increasing the assessed valuation of the real estate in the town. The measure is the first step toward floating a bond issue for capital improvements in the town. Mr. Lockwood deems this bond issue most important as the much needed funds are otherwise unavailable.

The Town Manager pointed out the fact that the town has been over bonded for the past twenty years and has been unable to issue more bonds. Stated for capital improvements are the W. T. Cooke classroom additions, major repairs to the seawall, and drainage and street improvements.

According to the proposal the assessed valuation would be doubled and the town tax rate cut proportionately. Provision is also made for a request that the County Board of Supervisors reduce the town tax rate resulting in no tax increase for property owners in Virginia Beach.

The doubled assessment would increase the real estate valuation of the town to more than $7,500,000.

If the County Board of Assessors approves the resolution the bond issue would require a referendum of the voters.

Seawall Repair

Town Engineer Bounds presented to the Council a detailed study of the cost of permanent repairs to the Beach seawall.

Costs were estimated between $200,000 and $225,000. An expenditure of $4,000 was approved for preparation of contract data, plans and specifications.

W. T. MacMillan, of the Croston Corporation, appeared before the Council to request endorsement of the proposed highway connecting Virginia Beach directly with U. S. Highway 13 intersecting at the triple deck overpass. Mr. MacMillan's motion was tabled for further study.

In reviewing several letters to the Council, Clerk Jones noted several in appreciation for the recent Shrine Convention. Mr. Jones also read a notice from Col. Derby announcing a meeting at the Princess Anne Court House October 20 for discussion of the Kempsville Project.

Following the acceptance of the Debt Service Commission Report he meeting adjourned.

Overseas Christmas Gifts Must Be Mailed Before November 15

Christmas packages for Army personnel and civilian employees of the Department of the Army who are stationed overseas, should be mailed between October 15 and November 15 in order to reach their destination during the holiday season. Lieutenant Colonel Samuel E. Trosley, Acting Executive of the Virginia Military District, announced today.

Gifts should be packed securely in boxes of wood, metal, or very strong fiberboard. The addressee's name and a list of the contents should be written on a piece of paper and placed inside the box, so that the gift can be delivered, if the address on the outside of the box is obliterated by handling.

The outside address should be placed directly on the box or wrapping, and not on gummed labels which may become moist and lost from the package.

The weight limit is 70 pounds, and maximum measurement 200 inches in girth and length combined.

Greeting cards sent first class should also be mailed within the suggested period, but those sent by air mail may be mailed as late as December 1, and still be delivered before Christmas.

TWO DISSENTING VOTES

The Virginia Beach Town Council has broken a precedent set by its usual unanimous vote on issues brought before the group. Tuesday afternoon two dissenting votes were cast when the roll was called for a ballot. Though this should arouse no undue interest, several interesting observations might be made.

It seems that the proposal in question had been misplaced by Town Clerk Jones and obviously had not been discussed by the members of the group before the regular meeting. It also appears that the resolution entailed only endorsement by our town fathers.

After much bickering back and forth among the councilmen, suggestions for approval by the Mayor and Town Manager and innumerable questions, the new members and Mr. Halstead remained skeptical of passing the subject without "Further Study" or is it "Further Instruction."

It might be added that if history were to repeat itself, these dissenting voters are jeopardizing their political positions. Some may recall the fate of the last two members of this august body who designed to disagree.

A. L. FISHER

With the passing of Audie Lee Fisher Virginia Beach has lost a man who was untiring in his efforts to better the community. As a member of the Virginia Beach Baptist Church he has been instrumental in the growth of that church. As a partner in the Fuel, Feed and Building Supplies Corporation, Mr. Fisher figured in the expansion of that organization. Though Audie Fisher will not be remembered as a publicity seeker he will be well remembered for the part which he has played in the growth of Virginia Beach.

ASSESSMENT AND TAXES

Virginia Beach citizens have been enjoined by their Town Council to consider and accept Manager Lockwood's request for reassessment of real estate in the town of Virginia Beach. Without this revaluation much needed improvements will be impossible.

If the County Board of Assessors approve Mr. Lockwood's plan, town property assessment will be doubled and, according to the resolution presented, town taxes would be cut proportionately, creating no increase in our town real estate tax. However, the Town Manager's plan calls for a request that the County Board of Supervisors reduce the county tax rate in Virginia Beach. If this request is granted and the county tax rate decreased proportionately then the people of Virginia Beach will not be affected by the reassessment. By referendum we will be allowed to decide on a bond issue that will enable the town to secure the funds necessary for such capital improvements that have been needed for many years.

DON'T YOU BELIEVE IT

American scientists and American members of the Administration and Congress are not in cahoots with Communists. All this noise that members of the Cabinet and political leaders in the different parties are disloyal is nonsense. Most sober-minded men in both political parties are disturbed over the injustice that may be done to individual public employees.

There may be a few skunks in the woodpile somewhere, but you can depend upon men who have brains and character to be loyal at all times to their country. Insinuations against the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Chief J. Edgar Hoover is plain slander, nothing else.

FIRE PREVENTION IS A COMMUNITY MATTER

Every community in the country, the National Board of Fire Underwriters points out, should have an active fire safety committee, working on a year-round basis.

The committee, if it is to be successful, must have a chairman with energy, enthusiasm, and proved leadership ability. Its membership should be drawn from all elements in the community—churches, hospitals, industrialists and labor unions, service clubs, theatres, veterans' organizations and the rest. And its duties should run the gamut of fire hazards, from ineffective building codes to the existence of fire traps that need to be condemned.

A considerable number of committees of this nature have been formed and are now at work. There is no better way to bring home to the people of any town the danger that fire presents to them, along with easily understood instructions on how to make property safe. Fire prevention, after all, is basically a local matter. Every community has its own special problems. National and state fire safety organizations are doing a splendid and essential job—but they can't individually cover every village. And that's where the local committees enter the picture.

Organized fire prevention work is reaching a peak of activity now, as a result of record fire waste. More effort and more thought should be given to stopping fire than ever before. And a local fire safety committee in every community, no matter how small its population, is a vital element in the campaign against one of the greatest destroyers of life and property.

POOR LITTLE RICH GIRL
By Dr. Alfred P. Haake

(Editor's Note: Alfred P. Haake, Ph.D., Mayor of Park Ridge, Illinois, is a noted Economist, Business Consultant, Lecturer and Author.)

Elsaine was a pretty little thing—quiet, friendly and modest. Did her work well, too, and the girls in the big down-town office all liked her. When a department head made her his secretary they gave a party for her. "That gal is gold" places," said the switch-board operator, slyly.

And then the heavens fell.

It was only a clipping from the society columns of the Sunday paper, read by thousands of women, many of them finding vicious outlet for their innate snobishness in the stories they read there. It was the addressograph operator who carried the clipping around the office, telling the story of a fond mother in a north shore suburb who had given a coming-out party for her debutante daughter.

"Whaddy y' know!" exclaimed the girls. "Our own little Elsaine a 'debutant'! So that's why she never talks about her home. Hold 'n' out on us. Think she's better'n the rest of us!"

Protests friendly to Elsaine grew fewer and fewer as the office became an under-cover bedlam of hostility to the girl who, until then, had been winning the respect and even affection of her fellow-workers. Her bewildered efforts to change the situation only made it worse, and a few months later she left the office.

Poor little Elsaine! She believed in democracy and wanted so much to share the fellowship of girls who had to work for a living. But they shut her out with their own intolerance and petty envy.

But the people I really pity are not the poor little rich girls. Rather, my heart goes out for the poor little snobs who envy the rich because they cannot be the snobs they think the rich must be.

A labor leader, sitting in a meeting of civic leaders, looked around defiantly at the people representing other elements of the city and remarked: "What's wrong with this town is that some of the people think they are too good to associate with us common folks!"

Yes it was several of those "people" who were responsible for the labor man being recognized in that meeting at all. They wanted to know him better and work with him.

That man and others like him have deliberately set up barriers of class distinction between themselves and what they sneer at as the "better people" in town. He and his ilk unceasingly propagate the stupid theory that labor must unite against the bosses as enemies and they discourage any worker who is so foolish as to have personal ambitions and strive to win promotion in the factory.

There are people among the more able, successful and fortunate who are as foolish as to look down on the masses of Americans as inferior beings. But they are the excuse, rather than the rule and, in many cases, are the same people who, in their own earlier days of lesser fortune, gave vent to the same envious snobbery which is now directed against them.

We have too much in common, our needs are too great and the dangers we face are too serious, to spend our precious time and energy in envy and hate. Understanding and fellowship—denied the Elsaines of the world by those who fall victims to their own intolerance, and denied to men in management who have won the right to cooperation from their fellow-workers by the trouble-makers who spread the insidious poison of class hatred—that understanding and fellowship are needed desperately by all of us. Only the very petty can afford the meanness of snobbery.

When I find myself feeling a little superior, or resenting what seems to me the snobbery of someone else more fortunate than myself, I remind myself of what the Master once said: "And why be holdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye?"

Army Schedules Public Hearing on Little Creek Project

The Corps of Engineers, Department of the Army, having been authorized by the River and Harbor Act of March 3, 1945, to make a preliminary examination and survey of Little Creek, Princess Anne County, Va., the District Engineer, Norfolk, Va., will hold a public hearing on the subject at 3:00 p.m., EST, Wednesday, November 3, 1948, in the Cafeteria at Fort Norfolk, Norfolk, Va.

The preliminary examination and survey will cover the entire creek as well as the channel leading thereto from Chesapeake Bay, with primary consideration to be given to proposals for improvements designed to benefit navigation. Information will be requested at the hearing to determine the nature and extent of the improvement desired and the economic justification therefor. Should the preliminary report receive favorable consideration by the Department of the Army, a survey will be authorized to prepare plans and estimate of cost for accomplishing a feasible and economical improvement.

All interested parties, who may be affected by any proposals for the improvement of Little Creek, are invited to attend or to be represented at the hearing, particularly naval and military authorities and navigation, seafood, industrial interests, property owners, officials of State and local governments, and representatives of civic organizations. Those attending the hearing will be given full opportunity to express their views regarding the need for improvement to facilitate present and prospective navigation on that waterway.

Oral statements will be heard, but for accuracy of the record, all important facts and arguments should be submitted in writing. Written statements may be submitted at the hearing or may be mailed to the District Engineer prior thereto.

Forestry Meeting Scheduled October 21 in Richmond

The most important forestry meeting ever arranged in Virginia is scheduled for the John Marshall Hotel in Richmond Thursday, October 21, beginning at 10 a.m. The meeting will have as its theme "Forestry Education in Virginia," and will feature the launching of an intensive cooperative program for distributing educational material to every landowner in the State.

On the program will appear such outstanding leaders in government education, agriculture, and forestry as the Hon. Wm. M.

Tuck, Governor of Virginia; Colgate W. Darden, President of the University of Virginia, who will be the principal speaker; Dr. T. S. Bule, regional conservator, Southeastern Region, Soil Conservation Service; Wm. A. Wright, chairman, Department of Conservation and Development; L. B. Dietrick, director, VPI Extension Service; Dowell J. Howard, Assistant Superintendent of Public Instruction; Charles A. Gillett, forester, American Forest Products Industries, Inc., Washington, D. C., and George W. Dean, State Forester.

Others to appear on the program will be T. V. Downing, Assistant State Supervisor of Agricultural Education; S. A. Oslin, chairman, Southside Soil Conservation District Supervisors; H. B. Powers, farm agent, Lunenburg County; James E. Peters, vocational agriculture instructor, Salem; and W. P. Branch, chief forest warden, Dinwiddie County.

The meeting, which is sponsored by Virginia Forests, Inc., will be used to launch an intensive forestry education program to be known as "More Trees for Virginia." It is designed to place 21,000 pounds of descriptive forestry literature in the hands of Virginia's 175,000 farm owners. Helping with this work will be recently appointed county forestry committees. The program is being conducted in cooperation with the American Forest Products Industries, Inc., of Washington, D. C., the Virginia Forest Service, and other educational and agricultural agencies.

The meeting will be open to the public, and all who are interested in forestry education and conservation are invited to attend.

Dailey Does 'Em

by Daphne Daily, Special Correspondent, VPA News Service
(Editor's Note: The following is a correspondence from Daphne Daily, Special Correspondent of the Virginia Press Assn. News Service, who is making a tour of England, Scotland, France, and other places of interest this summer. The following is from Switzerland.)

Berne—Next to America, Switzerland would be the place to live. That is the choice of this group of American tourists from the time we crossed the border of the world's oldest democracy. Admitting the ties of home, we have taken to this patch of country like moss to a mountainside.

Four impressions of Switzerland rush with force upon the visitor—the scenery, food, cleanliness and dignity of the people. Each seems so important that it is difficult to say which is cause and which effect. Nothing yet seen is quite like green fields topped by the Alps. In transit each view from a train window is a landscape masterpiece of clouds and sky, ranges and blue water. Above meadows and cropland are strings of sturdy chalets trying to climb a mountain side. Now and then one gets ahead of the others and rests well toward the top. At intervals a wrinkled, old peak wearing a white lace cap will push aside cloud curtains to see how the small fry are doing. It is a photographer's paradise, and so far good weather has been with this particular tourist group.

After 10 weeks on other European railroads, Switzerland is like a well-stocked refrigerator filled with foods to dream about—cheese, chocolate, coffee, butter, meat, vegetables and the best fruit this side of the Valley of Virginia.

Everything is so clean that, as often is said, it almost could be served from the floor as well as from a plate. Bathrooms simply shine. Bed linens are fluffs of cloud pulled from the sky. Butcher shops are not just tidy; they are hospital-clean. A pair of white gloves probably will stay fresh here forever. Buildings, streets, walks and railroad stations look as if crews and crews of workers spend their lives keeping the country shining, and they probably do. Returning to the hotel the other night, our group of tourists found each one pulling paper scraps, matches and litter from pockets. One wouldn't dare thrust trash upon such a neat landscape.

The Swiss know they have many good things of life. Their heritage is individually important to them. To the tourist they give an impression of dignity yet sincere courtesy at all levels. It is the sort of attitude of "neither looking up to the rich nor down upon the poor." In this 15,950 square miles of earth at least some 4,000,000 people have learned how to get along with themselves and other nations. A population of 87 per cent Protestant, 41 per cent Catholic and 2 per cent other faith speaks four official languages—German, French, Italian and Romansch.

It was not an easy path of history. After the first Helevetians were conquered by the Romans came invasions by the Huns and Alemanni. The Hapsburgs ruled from the 13th Century. But on August 1, 1291, representatives from three cantons met in a meadow to form a league against tyrannical Albrecht. It was the beginning of Switzerland's federation, and that meeting is depicted today in the parliament building in Berne.

Even with the spirit of such men as William Tell, Switzerland had more struggle without and within. At last emerged a nation with a constitution, a federation of 22 cantons (25 if three subdivisions are counted) with 2,107 self-governing communes and the rights of initiative and referendum.

There are two elective houses and a council of seven members named by the houses. Members are paid expenses but not salary. The president holds office one year.

Switzerland has direct democracy, too. In the Chamber of the Council of States, equivalent to our Senate, is a painting of a scene from the Canton of Unterwalden. It portrays a gathering on the last Sunday in April when the people of the Canton assemble to name their canton parliament and further to vote upon their own laws. At the right of the scene are judges who determine by the show of hands the wishes of the majority.

All the Cantons have given something to the new parliament building (1901) in Berne from their products of marble, granite, woodcarving, lace, etc. Like everything else in Switzerland, the building and its furnishings are immaculate, even to the velvet seats reserved for diplomats.

By legend Berne takes its name from the bear. Its founder, Duke Berchthold of Zahringen, promised to give it the name of the first animal he killed in a hunt. Bears have been honored by the city ever since in grateful thanks, according to this morning's tourist guide, who noted it is fortunate the duke did not kill a pig instead.

At any rate, 18 trained bears in the pit here perform their tricks daily for grown-ups and children for the price of a carrot, and tens of thousands of bear woodcarvings stream from shops into tourist suitcases.

Berne has arcades, fountains and a world-famous clock. It has, too, in full bloom endless window

Love Forecasts Pinch On Farm Profits

The long-forecast pinch between falling farm produce prices and still-high production costs may be in the making for the farmer.

Dr. Harry Love, head of the agricultural economics department at V. P. I. reports that last month the index of prices received by farmers for their products dropped 3 per cent to 293—which is 9 points below the preceding month. Meanwhile, he says, production costs, as represented by what the farmer pays for what he buys, remained unchanged at the record high index of 281 for the third consecutive month.

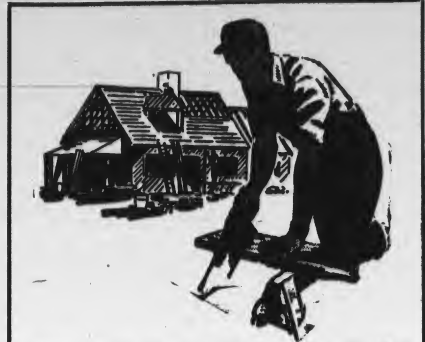

It was this same process, at a faster rate that put the squeeze on profits in farming during the last half of 1920, Dr. Love says.

boxes of begonias, petunias and geraniums. Above such color is the Swiss flag, white cross on red, and above that is the blue sky. Of course a tourist wants to stay longer in Switzerland.

The price is much lower, he asserts, than the "normal" level in prices for many farm commodities will spread and gather speed in the coming winter months.

He listed these factors as having an important bearing on the farm price situation: More than $25 million already spent in the potato program and a requirement of at least $50 million more for this crop before the year ends; More than 3 million cases of export wheat; wheat selling below export prices; more than a billion bushel increase in corn yield over last year; an increase of 294 million bushels in oats this year; barley yields of 12 per cent over last year; about 4 million bushels more soybeans than in the record year of 1946; and an expected cotton crop of about 3.3 million bales above last year.

Mrs. Pinner Guest Speaker at Garden Club Meeting

The Princess Anne Garden Club met Monday, October 11, at 12:30 p.m. with Mrs. John Frost Woodhouse at her home in Lynnhaven. Mrs. Woodhouse entertained with an oyster roast luncheon prior to the business meeting.

Guest speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. Henry Pinner, of the Nansemond River Garden Club of Suffolk, Virginia, who was introduced by Miss Elizabeth Gregory Hill, club president. Mrs. Pinner's topic was on Narcissus, the history, background, exhibiting and judging, also bringing in that the annual Narcissus Show is to be held in Alexandria, Virginia, next April. Flower arrangements were exhibited during the afternoon by Mrs. B. D. White, Mrs. Dagley Walker, Mrs. Raymond Pritchard, Mrs. Oscar Smith and Mrs. Frank Green. Miss Evelyn Collins Hill exhibited a number of interesting flower specimens.

Special guests for the meeting were Mrs. E. H. Herbert, a charter member of the club, who is now living in Alabama, and Mrs. Bradford Kilby, of the Nansemond River Garden Club.

Capital Airlines Receives Award

Capital Airlines, Inc., has received the 1948 "best of industry" award in the direct mail field from the Direct Mail Advertising Association. It was announced to the Capital Airlines was selected above all other airlines in the United States and Canada.

The presentation of the award was made by Ellis O. Bishop, advertising manager of the Royal Typewriter Company, who was chairman of the five-man committee of judges. Joseph E. Montgomery, III, art director of Capital Airlines, received the award for his company.

Capital Airlines' direct mail program was conceived by James W. Austin, director of traffic and sales, and executed by Mr. Montgomery. It consisted entirely of postcards and was directed to convention travelers and special groups.

Beach Little Theatre Comedy Production Heartily Received

Large, enthusiastic audiences were led in their praise of the Little Theatre of Virginia Beach production "George Washington Slept Here," which was given at the Community House Monday and Tuesday nights.

Each of the characters turned in a stellar performance, and all who participated contributed to a grand opening of the theatre season.

James Miner Aboard USS Portsmouth

James E. Miner, ship's serviceman, third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Miner, of Route 1, Virginia Beach, is serving aboard the light cruiser USS Portsmouth which has recently been engaged in Reserve training cruises to Caribbean ports.

The Portsmouth was commissioned at Norfolk in 1945 and was assigned duty with Cruiser Division Ten in the Mediterranean. Later she became flagship of the Commander of Naval Forces, Mediterranean.

Woman's Club Birthday Luncheon Held Tuesday

Pine Tree Inn Scene Of Annual Affair; 30 New Members

The Birthday Luncheon of the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County was held at the Pine Tree Inn Tuesday, October 13, at 12:30 p.m.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. G. C. Manson, president of the club. Mrs. Ira D. S. Knight gave the invocation. Mrs. Wallace Clark presented a gavel to Mrs. Manson and read a little poem which she had written to the club. With the new gavel, Mrs. Manson presided on the occasion of the 23rd birthday of the club, and introduced the following guests: Mrs. George Lyon, president of the Ocean Park Woman's Club; Mrs. I. D. Mapp, corresponding secretary of the Ocean Park Club; Mrs. L. L. Dillon, president of the Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club; Mrs. Edward Cooper, of the Chesapeake Beach Club; and Mrs. W. P. Keilman, president of the Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County.

Mrs. Frank Cox, chairman of the membership committee, introduced the 30 new members and asked each one to stand. They are: Mrs. Mark H. White, Mrs. Edith W. Burden, Mrs. Stephen A. Highman, Mrs. Julian J. Baum, Mrs. Bryan Dudley, Mrs. Sam Harris, Mrs. Swindell Pollock, Mrs. John P. Flemming, Mrs. C. M. Tomko, Mrs. Oscar Ratliff, Mrs. O. B. Bell, Mrs. Horace Simmons, Mrs. W. B. Meredith, Mrs. S. H. Peck, Mrs. E. E. Pittman, Mrs. Delmas Jester, Mrs. George Snell, Mrs. Ira E. Church, Mrs. James Bennett, Mrs. Guy W. Capps, Mrs. Grayson Whitehurst, Mrs. Herbert Holt, Jr., Mrs. Sidney Banks, Mrs. William Darden, Mrs. R. E. Page, Mrs. J. E. Winslow, Mrs. G. C. Lawrence, Mrs. Ira D. S. Knight, Mrs. John F. Stone, and Mrs. Robert Davis.

Mrs. Kermit Land, program chairman, introduced Mrs. A. E. Ewell, first president of the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County, who gave a most interesting talk about the history and accomplishments of the Woman's Club from its very beginning on October 20, 1925, at the Experimental Station at Diamond Spring, Virginia.

Mr. Robert Ewing, accompanied by Mrs. George Aldridge, sang "Without A Song" and "The Desert Song." Miss Carol Simpson gave several readings. The flowers and decorations were furnished by the garden committee: Mrs. Nita McMenamin, chairman, Mrs. DeKoven King, Mrs. Lewis Thromm, Mrs. W. B. Meredith, Mrs. Joseph H. Proudfoot, III, Mrs. George Mullen, and Mrs. A. S. Mundy. Each lady was presented with a corsage by the committee.

The hospitality committee was composed of Mrs. Russell Hatchett, chairman, Mrs. Wallace Clarke and Mrs. Walter Taylor.

Little Theatre To Hold Try-outs For 2nd Production

Meeting To Be Held Monday Night At Community House

Try-outs for "Ladies in Retirement," a mystery play by Edward Percy and Reginald Denham, which will be the second offering of the Little Theatre of Virginia Beach for the 1948-49 season, to be produced on November 29 and 30, will be held on October 18 at 8 p.m. at the Community House.

All those interested in reading a part are urged to come to this open meeting.

Characters in the play, the scene of which is laid in the living room of an old house on the marshes of the Thames estuary some ten miles to the east of Gravesend are:

Lucy Gilham: a pretty young maid, rather a flighty type.

Lenora Fiske: elderly, sixty, but with all the airs, graces and gaiety of youth. A good-hearted woman with a shrewd sense of wit and a quick temper.

Ellen Creed: tall, striking-looking woman, with considerable dignity. Eyes expressive and features clear-cut. Would be handsome if her lips were not so tiny and compressed.

Albert Feather: a little fellow of the type which the word "cad" was coined. Faintly and impudent and in great favor with the ladies.

Louisa Creed: a little elderly woman, thin-faced, shadowy personality, simple as a child to whom ple, fluttering, fretful, full of whims sometimes comical.

Emily Creed: a big-boned woman of a sly type. Dependent like Louisa, but hates her inability to fend for herself.

Sister Teresa: a Nun.

"Ladies in Retirement" was a tremendously successful Broadway and Little Theatre production. It is a gripping mood drama.

Those interested in the technical end of production are needed as well as actors.

Mrs. J. D. W. Cassada, ticket chairman, reports that there are still a few season tickets available.

Today's tip on child labor laws from the United States Department of Labor to employers . . . Don't permit 14- and 15-year-old children to work in rooms where manufacturing or processing is being carried on.

Oceana Cavaliers
Play Smithfield
Team Tonight

The Cavaliers of Oceana High School will journey to Smithfield tonight to play the undefeated Smithfield football team. This is the first meeting of these two football teams in the history of the two schools. Game time is 8 o'clock and the game will be played on the Smithfield Athletic Field.

Smithfield joined Group II Conference this year for the first time and up to the present has not lost a game. The team defeated George Wythe, tied the strong Matthews-Whealey team, and has defeated Pocomac and Churchland. The Cavaliers will be up against one of the best clubs it has played in some time.

Oceana's record shows a loss to Norview, win over Deep Creek, tie with Franklin and a close win over Fortlick.

Coach Tomko's team has been beset by injuries most of the year, but the boys are now getting in shape and a real scrap is in store for tonight.

The Oceana Band will accompany the team on this trip. This is the first appearance of the band this year under the direction of J. F. Cantwell, with Bob Hargwood as captain.

SOIL-CEMENT—today's biggest value for light-traffic streets

SOIL-CEMENT makes taxpayers' dollars go further because about 90 per cent of the required material is usually native soil on the site. It's easy to transform high-maintenance cost streets into strong, long-lasting pavement good for years of all-weather service with soil-cement. Soil-cement's superior value and durability for light-traffic streets is thoroughly established. More than 46,000,000 square yards of such paving are now in service in the U. S.

GARAGE

— 24-Hour Road Service —

Multiply this by 7,000,000!

Here's one foot of large telephone cable, actual size. Inside are 4,242 wires.

About 7,000,000 feet of cable of various sizes have been added since V-J day to improve and expand telephone service in this state. And more are being added every day.

This is only a small part of a tremendous program of construction now well under way. The program is costing millions of dollars.

All this construction money comes from investors—people who have faith in the future of the Telephone Company. They entrust their money to us because they believe their investments will be safe and will pay them a fair return.

Even in normal times, the huge sums needed for new construction must come from investors. On the other hand, the money you pay for telephone service goes to meet everyday expenses—wages, materials and other operating costs.

Today, these expenses are at the highest peak in our history.

Of the 17 major improvements built into this tractor, here are three which in themselves place the WD in a class by itself:

POWER ADJUSTED WHEEL TREADS

Power of the engine is used to adjust rear wheel treads to 10 different spacings.

TWO-CLUTCH POWER CONTROL

Two clutches permit continuous operation of power take-off and hydraulic system — independent of tractor motion.

FIVE-WAY HYDRAULIC SYSTEM

Complete hydraulic control of mounted and pull-type implements.

FULL LINE OF IMPLEMENTS. A complete new line of hydraulically-operated, quick-hitch companion implements — both mounted and pull-type — all matched to the power, speed and weight of the WD tractor.

How to Celebrate Your Wedding Anniversary

The "Dutch" Millers celebrated their Tin Wedding Anniversary Saturday. Everything had to be tin. Folks even ate off tin plates, and drank coffee out of tin cups.

When it was time to drink a toast to the "bride and groom," out came the final touch: ice cold beer in cans. And come the Millers' 15th anniversary (Glas) I expect we'll be toasting them with sparkling beer in bottles!

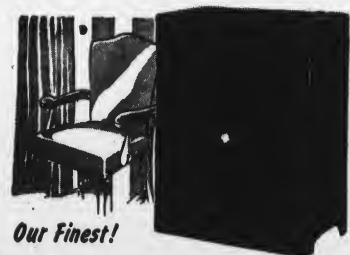

And I couldn't help thinking that there was a lesson for married folks in the way Dutch and his missus have got along together—in their policy of live-and-let-live, with never a criticism of each other's differences in taste.

From where I sit, it's due to two things: Temperance—as that moderate preference for beer suggests, and Tolerance—for their own differences of opinion—and for the tastes of others, whether applied to beer, to politics, or how to celebrate an anniversary.

Community Chest Chairman Says Collections Now at Halfway Mark

Solicitors Told Hard Work Still Ahead To Meet Quota

The first report meeting of the Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach Community Chest held Wednesday resulted in approximately $6100 being turned in. This amount represents 50% of the quota.

Chest officials were jubilant over the initial response. Chairman Fred Haycox pointed to the splendid work being done by the two division chairmen, William F. Hudson in the county and William P. Kellam in the town.

Mr. Haycox also revealed that Norfolk business firms had contributed generously to the current drive. He stated that "our Norfolk friends have been very gracious in their giving."

The chairman explained that of the current total, which has been raised in one-fourth the time allotted to the campaign, the Virginia Beach division has raised approximately $4000 and the county has turned in $2100. Both divisions have shown great interest and both leaders have assured Mr. Haycox that they would "go over the top."

The business division of the town group, led by G. Fred Cook, Jr., and L. B. Shelly, has raised $2500, while the residential section, headed by Mrs. J. D. W. Casada, reported contributions totalling $1500.

Chairman Haycox thanked the workers for their efforts thus far, but warned them that most of the larger contributors had already been contacted and that in order to reach the ultimate goal of $12,000 it would be necessary to double their efforts during the remainder of the drive.

The workers were urged to complete their canvassing as soon as possible with a view to ending the drive, next Wednesday, October 27, four days prior to the announced closing date. In order to accomplish this, Mr. Haycox emphasized the need for diligent work on the part of the solicitors.

Scattered areas within the county were not reported at the first meeting which indicates that the actual county total is in excess of the $2100 figure as reported. The next report meeting, scheduled for early next week, should present a more complete picture of all districts.

Hoffman Charges County Leaders With Disloyalty

In a talk before the South Virginia Beach Civic League Tuesday night Republican Candidate Walter Hoffman charged the local democratic leaders with disloyalty to their party. In a bid for Virginia Beach votes Mr. Hoffman pointed out that party loyalty could be no issue in this county. He reported that although the county politicians were strongly in favor of Mr. Hardy and Mr. Robinson, they had revealed their intentions of supporting the States Rights candidates for the higher executive positions. Mr. Hoffman also pointed out the inconsistency of our democratic chairmen's arguments against a "Yankee boat" candidate, when four years ago the same organization supported one.

The republican candidate did not outline a particular platform. However, he did infer that he did not approve of his opponent's stand on such issues as tax reduction and tax equality, the padding of public payrolls, and cooperative taxation.

Walter Page, who spoke on behalf of the Democratic Party, expressed his own interpretation of the democratic platform. He expressed his belief that the legislation now pending in Congress on an anti-yulching act, poll tax issue, elimination of segregation, and the Federal Fair Employment Act was legislation which encroached on the rights of the individual states. The democratic speaker touched on each, stating his ideas as to individual state's needs as against several Federal enactments. Mr. Page is of the opinion that Mr. Dewey, if elected will endeavor to pass a Fair Employment Practice Act, which act "would result in the establishment of a strong-run bureau of the Federal Government."

In his retiring statement the spokesman enumerated the various qualities and qualifications of the democratic nominees and urged their support by the Civic League.

Powell Travel Agency Now At C. of C. Office

Added to the growing family at the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce office is the Alice Powell Travel Agency.

Office hours will be from nine to five Monday through Friday and from nine to twelve, noon, on Saturday, according to Miss Marjorie V. House, agent. Tickets for all water, road or air are available and a free week-end service desk will be delivered on Friday afternoon.

Rev. Van Dyck Gets Assignment Here

Reassignments in the Methodist Conference have brought about changes in the Princess Anne County churches.

Rev. R. E. Forrest, pastor of the Virginia Beach Methodist Church, has been assigned to West Point, and Rev. Frank H. Van Dyck, Jr., of Aldersgate, will take his place.

In Princess Anne County, Rev. N. F. Hunt, of Princess Anne; Rev. J. W. Reynolds, Jr., of South Princess Anne, and Rev. I. L. Jewell, of Oceana, have been assigned to other fields.

Little Theatre Needs Costumes for Play

The Little Theatre of Virginia Beach is in need of costumes for their next production, "Ladies in Retirement." The setting for the play is in the period around 1885. Anyone having a costume of that period is urged to contact Carol Simpson, director of the Little Theatre.

Other people know exactly what we ought to do with our money and do not hesitate to tell us, in word and print.

Little Theatre Gets Permanent Workshop Space

Try-outs for "Ladies in Retirement," the mystery show by Edward Forcy and Reginald Denham to be produced November 29-30 at the Community House, were held Monday night. The casting committee, consisting of Mrs. William Sills, chairman, Mrs. W. C. Penington, Robert Marer and Mrs. Robert Thurman, who was recently appointed to the committee to replace Mrs. L. Use Londono, report that the final line-up of the cast will be announced next week. They also report that interest and activity has gained steady momentum in Little Theatre circles during the past week.

The Little Theatre has acquired the use of the bath houses in the rear of the Community House for a workshop and dressing room. Over the week-end a group of workers headed by Carol Simpson and E. Johns on Neal went to work with painters and carpenters, formed a production line, and amidst of laughing and crashing did a professional job of tearing down partitions and cleaning up the place.

These assisting in the ground work, besides Miss Simpson and Mr. Neal, were George Garvin, Forest Erush, Samuel C. Foster, Jr., William Sills, Comdr. William Keena, Robert Henry, John Tucker, Donald and David Pidgeon, Robert Marer, Joseph LaGiglia, Bud Maloney, Randolph Odell, Anne Henry, Jane LaGiglia, Jackie Wolcott, and last but not least, representing the very young set, for whom a Children's Theatre is planned in the not too distant future, Butch and Punkin Maloney, Beverly Odell and Anthony LaGiglia.

There is still much work to be done, and anyone interested in assisting with the renovation of the building is urged to get in touch with Carol Simpson, Little Theatre Director. Work will start immediately on a stage to be built off one end of the building. Mr. Neal will be in charge of this project.

ABC Violators Found Guilty

Three men were held for grand jury action and 12 persons were found guilty of violations of the ABC laws in the Princess Anne County Trial Justice Court Monday.

The whiskey arrests were made during raids by county police and AEC agents during September and October.

In the ABC cases, Claude Sanford, of the Checkerboard Club, 2300 Shore Drive, was fined $50 and given a 30-day suspended sentence for attempting to violate the AEC act, and was fined $100 and given additional 30-day sentences on two charges of section 40 (illegal selling of whiskey).

W. E. Johnson, of the same club, was fined $100 for keeping whiskey on the premises of an establishment holding a restaurant license and an additional $150 for maintaining a nuisance.

Charles Henry Romer, also of the Checkerboard Club, was fined $100 for aiding and abetting in the maintaining of a nuisance.

Aloysius Silek, of Woods Restaurant, Waterworks Road, faced four charges. He was fined $100 for keeping whiskey on the premises of an establishment holding a restaurant license, and also drew $50 fines and 30-day suspended sentences on each of two charges of selling whiskey.

Henry Silek, of the same restaurant, was fined $50 and given a 30-day suspended sentence for selling whiskey.

John E. Parlett, of the same restaurant, was fined $100 and given a 30-day suspended sentence for aiding and abetting in the maintenance of a nuisance.

Arthur Miller, of Virginia Beach Boulevard, was fined $150 and given a 30-day suspended sentence for selling whiskey.

Captain Black Issues Public Invitation to Navy Day Program

Christmas Lights Will Brighten Business District

Plans are now underway for a Christmas lighting program at Virginia Beach. The committee in charge of soliciting funds reports that the goal is in sight although the needed funds are not yet in hand.

The Chamber of Commerce and Virginia Beach merchants are planning to start this year with minimum requirements and expect to add to the equipment each year. This year's plan calls for strings of colored lights across Atlantic Avenue from 15th Street to 27th Street, Arctic Avenue to Atlantic Avenue on 17th Street, and one block on 25th Street.

Oceana Civic League To Meet Monday

A special meeting of the Oceana Civic League will be held Monday, October 25, at the Oceana High School at 8:00 p.m.

Everyone interested in the progress of Oceana is requested to attend due to an accumulation of urgent problems, with more arising daily. The purchase of new, modern fire equipment, street signs, and a general beautification program head the list.

W. E. Etheridge, president of the League, extends a personal invitation to all Navy personnel living in the community to attend the meeting.

Plan New Civic Hall At Lynnhaven

The Lynnhaven Civic League, in a meeting held Monday night, announced plans for building a new civic hall at Lynnhaven.

Equipment for the Lynnhaven children's playground has been ordered and is expected within 90 days.

Plans for a Halloween party to be held Saturday, October 30, are also announced at the meeting. Prizes will be awarded for the most original costume.

Presbyterian Men's Club Plans Meeting

The Presbyterian Men's Club will hold its initial fall meeting Wednesday, October 27, according to an announcement made by B. M. Stanton, president.

Mr. William Kellam, vice president and program chairman, has arranged a program with Dr. Sparks W. Melton as guest speaker. Dr. Melton is pastor of the Freeman Street Baptist Church in Norfolk and is renowned for his speaking ability.

Plans for Annual Oceana Bazaar Near Completion

A committee meeting was held Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Carl Rau for reports on the progress being made for the further completion of plans for the annual Oceana Bazaar.

Mrs. Rau and Mrs. J. D. Mendenhall are chairmen of the Bazaar, which will be held November 11 through 13 at 7:00 p.m. in the Oceana High School gymnasium.

Minors working in establishments covered by the Federal Wage and Hour Law must be paid at least 40 cents an hour, and time and a half for overtime, the United States Department of Labor advises employers.

Oceana A. S. Plans Elaborate Program And Demonstration

The Oceana Air Station has prepared an extensive program for the observance of Navy Day, according to an announcement by Capt. L. L. Black, commanding officer.

Wednesday, October 27, the station will hold an "open house" from 10 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. Guides will be furnished to conduct guests about the station. Carrier based fighters, dive bombers and torpedo bombers will be on display all day at the air field.

Capt. Black also announced the following outline for the program: 12:15 p.m.—Directors' of civic organizations luncheon. Address by the Commanding Officer.

1:00 p.m.—High school students and general public will be shown movies and conducted about the base.

1:45 p.m.—Inspection of planes by high school students and general public and viewing various exhibits.

2:00 p.m.—Observe take-off of planes and carrier rendezvous.

2:20 p.m.—Demonstrations of fire, crash, and rescue work.

2:30 p.m.—Demonstrations of Ground Controlled Approach by aircraft, and air show.

3:00 p.m.—High school students and general public proceed to AAT&C, Dam Neck for conducted tour and exhibition of anti-aircraft firing.

The Commanding Officer has extended his invitation to the public to inspect the facilities at Oceana and Dam Neck.

Little Creek to Demonstrate

The Amphibious Training Command, U. S. Atlantic Fleet, Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek, Virginia, will be host to the public at an "open house" Navy Day, Wednesday, October 27, 1948.

Commencing at 1:00 p.m. the West Annex will be open to the public for tours of the annex and visits aboard the various types of amphibious ships and landing craft that were used during World War II.

In addition, a series of events are scheduled at the main amphibious base (formerly annex No. 3). These events will include showings of combat motion pictures, displays of weapons, materials and vehicles, and a demonstration of underwater demolition on the Little Creek beaches. The demolition operations will be conducted by swimmers who will swim ashore, plant, and detonate live charges to remove beach obstacles prior to "invasion" of the "enemy's" beach.

Visitors will be furnished guides for the tour of exhibits and displays, and transportation from the base gate to the beaches to witness the demolition demonstration.

Parking space will also be provided for automobiles, and guests will be permitted to enter the Amphibious Base in their own cars if they so desire.

Army Engineers Seek Plan Best Suited To All Interests

R. B. Kellam, attorney, appearing before Colonel G. T. Derby, district army engineer, in a hearing at Princess Anne Court House this week presented the case of the Princess Anne farmers in regard to the severely flooded conditions in the Back Bay and North Landing River areas.

According to the testimony presented, Princess Anne farmers are losing over $1,000,000 annually in abandoned farm land and ruined crops. Responsible for such condition the attorney pointed out, is the lack of adequate drainage from the area, caused by the closed lock at Great Bridge.

Among the several plans offered for elimination of this condition was the opening of the Great Bridge lock, which proposal was opposed by L. G. Hoshier, representative of the Hampton Roads Maritime Association. This group objected to the proposal or to any proposal that would increase the current in the canal. Congressman Herbert C. Bonner, representing North Carolina interests, also opposed the plan, in that it would increase the salinity in the Back Bay and Currituck Sound areas thereby curtailing the sporting and wildlife industry.

A second plan, cutting a ditch through the barrier beach from Back Bay or Currituck Sound to the ocean was also opposed by the fish and wildlife interests.

B. P. Holland, of Virginia Beach, introduced a proposal that a dam be constructed between the Sound and Back Bay, thus eliminating the piling up of water in the latter area. This plan offered no relief for the North Landing River area and additional locks at the mouth of the river might prove too costly.

A third plan, and the most acceptable of those presented to the group, was the construction of a canal connecting North Landing River and West Neck Creek with Lynnhaven River. This project would necessitate a control gate to prevent the flow of salt water from entering the canal but would permit the drainage of piled up fresh water into the ocean.

Colonel Aubrey Holmes, soil conservation engineer in the county, presented statistics and a chart to show that the ditch would eliminate existing flood conditions. He pointed out that the water level at the south end of the proposed cut was approximately two feet higher than the mean high water mark in the Lynnhaven River.

According to Colonel Derby, all aspects of the proposal will be studied before a completed plan is formulated.

Both of the congressmen present assured the group of their support in Congress toward a project which will be amenable to all interests.

A PLAN FOR A BRIGHTER FUTURE FOR THIS AREA

The Lynnhaven Waterways Association took a forward step this week in its endeavor to improve the natural facilities offered by Lynnhaven Inlet and its tributary waters. Colonel George T. Derby, district Army engineer, outlined the project to guests and members of the organization at a meeting held Monday night. According to the engineer's report the project will call for an expenditure of $1,000,000 by the Federal Government and an additional expenditure of approximately $500,000 from non-Federal sources. The greater portion of this non-Federal expenditure will be for bridge construction. The present bridge over Lynnhaven Inlet is inadequate and the Third Street bridge will have to be changed, according to the proposed plan. The potentialities of sport fishing in lower Chesapeake Bay and the Atlantic Ocean have hardly been touched by the existing boat owners. This season has proven our existing facilities inadequate to accommodate the million dollar business which is waiting to be exploited. With the introduction of a larger, more accessible harbor in Lynnhaven Inlet, a larger bridge and a deeper, permanent channel through Lynnhaven Roads, Princess Anne County could expect an expanded, better equipped, and more adequate sport fishing fleet.

From the reports of this year's fishermen our fishing grounds will supply the demands of nearly all types of sport fishing. Our in-shore fishing grounds are easily accessible, especially for the famous Spot fishing off Ocean View and Thimble Shoals. Several wrecks and obstructions on the ocean floor provide excellent shelter for fish at the mouth of Chesapeake Bay. The deep water channel on the far side of the bay provides a natural runway for incoming schools of fish. Off-shore of Virginia Beach are located several coral reefs, natural feeding grounds for such fish as flounder, sea bass and "hoss" crabs. A good many of the larger fish, cabio (bonita) and channel bass were taken in this area during the past season. Several of the local boats ventured off-shore and found excellent dolphin fishing and evidences of marlin and sail fish. This business is flourishing elsewhere and has not been expanded here because of the lack of harbor facilities. As has been pointed out, West Palm Beach does an annual business of over a million dollars; Ocean City enjoys a short season, but its business is growing to near that mark, and Manteo with its nearby Oregon Inlet has a 45 boat sport fishing fleet.

Not only would Lynnhaven Inlet benefit from the project, but also Broad Bay and Linkhorn Bay. The proposed improvement through the connecting waterway would enable boats of deeper draft to traverse these waters without worry of sand bars and mud flats. Thus another potential business is in the offing. Many owners of large yachts have expressed a desire to bring their craft into Linkhorn Bay where they would be readily accessible to Virginia Beach. Many requests have been made by the North-South yacht traffic for dock space at the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club, but such requests have been discouraged because of the condition of the existing channel between Chesapeake Bay and Linkhorn Bay.

We have at least two big businesses in prospect, each of which would require innumerable small businesses which in turn would make for increased business activity in the county.

No doubt Colonel Derby has envisioned the possibilities of the area and realized that the benefits from the project would more than justify the capital outlay.

OYSTERS "E" IN SEASON

With the advent of the "E"-month, the traditional oyster-eating season is well along. But unless you're a hidebound antiquarian who demands his oysters raw and in the shell, the Government Fish and Wildlife Service sees no reason to restrict your enjoyment of the luscious, nutritious oyster to the months of September through April, when fishermen harvest America's vast oyster beds.

The tradition of waiting until the first "E"-month before eating oysters dates back several decades, before frozen oysters acquired their current popularity. Today, modern transportation, packaging, and freezing techniques enable people in all parts of the country to eat oysters every month in the year.

It's passe to confine your oyster appetite to the traditional "E"-months, says William H. Dumont, the Fish and Wildlife Service's fishery market news chief. He advises oyster fanciers to continue gratifying their lust for oysters even after April, when the harvest ends.

Reports reaching the Service indicate that this year's oyster crop should be larger than last year's. Higher costs for seed oysters and higher wages, however, will prevent prices from dropping.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

Two hundred and thirty-five Congressmen who voted for the Taft-Hartley Act have been renominated and less than a dozen have failed. Which goes to prove the oft-repeated statement in this correspondence that the labor legislation is becoming very satisfactory to wage earners who are protected against ruthless and bossy strike-leaders.

Believe it or not, the Washington gossip insists that John L. Lewis will support Dewey.

From WARWAS last week came the announcement that the left wing Polish Communists were pushing a purge of their members accused of deviation from the Marxist policies set forth by the Cominform. From Washington last week came the announcement that the left wing of the democratic party was pushing a purge of their members who are old fashioned enough to still believe in constitutional government and the sovereign rights of the states. Chest Agencies Include Boy and Girl Scouts

A bright "red feather" agency in the Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach Community Chest campaign is the Boy Scouts of America.

The Tidewater Council of the Boy Scout organization does a magnificent job of preparing our youth to take their places as citizens of tomorrow. At present more than 4000 youngsters of the Tidewater area are receiving Boy Scout training.

Along with the Boy Scouts sharing in the Community Chest campaign is its feminine counterpart, the Girl Scouts of America. Both of these organizations contribute to a better America, and deserve everyone's support.

Participating on a troop-basis, Tidewater Boy Scouts take part in almost every civic effort of a non-sectarian and non-political nature. Although they are not permitted to solicit funds, they assist in the Red Cross, the March of Dimes, the anti-Tuberculosis, and Community Chest Drives.

The highest rank in scouting—the Eagle Scout—necessitates 21 merit badges. Popular merit badge courses are first aid, firemanship, home repairs, personal health, carpentry, life saving, public health, safety and pioneering.

About once a year a camporee is held which is an organized overnight encampment. Displaying Scout skills, patrols compete against a standard for ratings.

In Community Chest territory one of every five boys is a Cub Scout; one of three is a Boy Scout, and one out of every 22 is a Senior Scout.

Harold V. Pace is Scout executive of the Tidewater Council, and Lloyd H. Caster is field executive of the Princess Anne and Virginia Beach district.

When one of the volunteer workers calls on you, remember to give and give enough.

If a telephone call were as simple as this ...

... the only equipment we'd use would be flags. And, if we needed more of them, it would be a simple matter to make new ones from sticks and cloth.

But expanding and improving telephone service is an entirely different story. It means constructing new buildings ... adding miles of wire and cable ... installing complex switchboards and thousands of other precision-made devices.

That's why the job is so costly. Our present construction program alone requires millions of dollars—money that must come, as it always has, from investors. They entrust their money to us because they believe their investment will be secure and pay them a fair return.

The huge sums used in this program of progress do not come from the money paid for telephone service. This money must go to meet everyday expenses—wages, materials and other operating costs—which are now at the highest peak in our history.

Six Delegates From County to Attend Meeting

Secretary of the Army Kenneth G. Royall will speak at the Friday night session of the Virginia Education Association convention to be held in Richmond October 26.

Some 3,500 educators from all sections of Virginia will attend the week-long convention, which will be based on "Education, the Bulwark of Democracy."

Calling the 1948 convention "the finest program ever held by the organization," Robert F. Williams, VEA executive secretary, announced that Royall will be one of the long list of "outstanding speakers" who will attend.

The Princess Anne Educational Association will send five delegates to the state meeting: Mrs. Ruth Corbato, president; Mrs. Beale Bell, Mrs. Lillian Kellam, Miss Ruby Worley and Mr. S. Blair Myers. Miss Anna Gordon Barrett will represent the Princess Anne Classroom Teachers Association.

The opening session for all delegates to the convention will be held at 11 a.m. Thursday, October 26, in the auditorium of John Marshall High School. Reports will be heard from Williams and from various committees of the VEA.

In addition to the general sessions, nine departments and 34 sections of the VEA will have complete programs of their own, many of them running a full day.

A memorial service for teachers who have died during the year will be held at 7:45 p.m. Friday, preceding Royall's address. Also on the program with Royall will be Miss Studebaker, president of the NEA.

Meetings of the Department of Superintendents will continue on Wednesday morning with Dr. J. E. Barrett, State Commissioner of Mental Hygiene, as speaker. A panel discussion on "Financing the Schools by Federal Aid and a State Sales Tax" will be held by R. C. Jennings, of Charlottesville. At the luncheon meeting, speakers will be Dr. Douglas F. Freeman, editor of the News Leader, and Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, president of Farmville State Teachers College.

Cadet Brooks Wins Recognition at VMI

Among the 35 Virginia Military Institute cadets of the Army R. O. T. C. unit recently designated as "distinguished military students" was Thomas L. Brooks, III, of Virginia Beach. Cadet Brooks will graduate with the June class and has been named eighth ranking cadet in the February and June classes. Upon graduation he will enter the Armed Forces as a lieutenant in the regular army. Cadet Brooks is the son of Dr. and Mrs. T. L. Brooks, Jr., of Virginia Beach.

Norfolk to Exhibit 65 Fighting Ships

More than one hundred Atlantic Fleet ships will visit five ports in the Fifth Naval District for the observance of Navy Day, October 27.

One of the three largest aircraft carriers afloat and, incidentally, the newest, the USS Coral Sea, will be open to visitors at the Norfolk Naval Shipyard in Portsmouth.

In addition to the Atlantic Fleet vessels, three ships which have been decommissioned and assigned to the Norfolk group, Atlantic Reserve Fleet, will also be open to the public. They include the mighty battleship Wisconsin at the Naval Shipyard in Portsmouth, the escort carrier Mission Bay at the Convoy Escort Piers on Hampton Boulevard, Norfolk, and the aircraft carrier Bennington at Pier 8, Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company at the foot of 33rd Street in Newport News.

DOROTHY D. KIDMAN WEDS

LITTLETON W. PAGES

Miss Dorothy D. Kidman, daughter of Mrs. Jean O. Kidman, of Naracoorte, South Australia, and R. K. Kidman, of Penola, South Australia, became the bride Saturday afternoon of Littleton Walke Parks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Parks, of "Calverton," Lynnhaven. The ceremony took place at Old Donation Church, Lynnhaven, with the Rev. A. Webster Horstman, officiating.

The church was decorated with Autumn flowers and lighted candles and James Barron was soloist. Given in marriage by John David Leitch, Sr., the bride wore a white satin wedding gown, fashioned with marquisette yoke and full three-quarter sleeves. The bodice buttoned from neck to waist at back and the full skirt ended in a train. The finger-tip length veil fell from a headress of stiffened lace and her flowers were white gladioli and tuberose centered with an orchid.

The bride's sister, Mrs. John David Leitch, Jr., was matron of honor. She wore an orchid marquisette gown over taffeta, with the full skirt fashioned with a bustle. She wore a spray of orchid feathers in her hair and carried a sheaf bouquet of dwarf gladioli and yellow roses.

Gorham Parks, of Rochester, N. Y., was his brother's best man. Ushers were William Petty Dickson, Jr., William Barton Baldwin and Cadwallader Collins.

Following a reception at "Calverton," the home of the groom, the couple left on a wedding trip to the western part of Virginia. They will make their home on 75th Street, Virginia Beach.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gorham Parks, of Rochester, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. William B. Hill, Jr., of Arlington, and Mrs. Joseph Tausig, of Washington, D. C.

Charles Slinguff, Jr., has returned to the University of Virginia after spending the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Slinguff, on 53rd Street.

Mrs. E. S. Curtis and Mrs. John Barker returned last week to Cleveland, Ohio, after spending a month in the Huffaker home on Avenue A.

Miss L. L. Odom and Miss Sue Preston have returned to their home on Raleigh Drive after spending the summer at Mackinac Island, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Jordan, Jr., who have been spending some time at the LeMoine Cottage, will move next week into their new home in Bay Colony.

Mrs. Cecil Waterfield, of Norfolk, was the guest last week-end of Mrs. Arthur Homer at her home on Avenue A.

Mrs. John Archer Coke, of Richmond, Va., and Mrs. Charles R. Carroll, of Nyack, N. Y., have returned to their homes after visiting Mrs. Coke's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Hix, at their home in Bay Colony.

Mrs. Joseph Bateman left yesterday for Columbia, S. C., to visit Major and Mrs. Floyd H. Tarr. She was accompanied as far as Chapel Hill, N. C., by her mother, Mrs. Bens. Holt, who will visit her niece, Mrs. E. H. Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Miller and children, of Philadelphia, Pa., have taken the Etheridge Apartment on 34th Street for the winter.

Va. Beach 1993-J Norfolk 24306

You needn't be rich to serve meat fairly often (though nowadays it certainly helps if you are!). You can stretch small amounts surprisingly far by combining them with A&P's specially-priced cereals and canned foods. Here's how:

ENJOY A GOOD, LONG LOAF!

To make a man-also meat loaf at a budget-wise price, combine 1 1/2 lb. ground meat, 1 egg, 1/4 cup pepper, 2 cups salt, 1/4 cup chopped celery, 3 cups chopped onion, 1/2 cup chopped celery leaves and 1 can tomato soup. Mix well. Add 4 cups of A&P's crispy SUNNYFIELD CORN FLAKES or SUNNYFIELD WHEAT FLAKES (lightly crushed). Pack into greased 9"x5"x3" loaf pan and bake in moderate oven, 375° F., 1 1/4 hours. 6 to 8 servings.

BAKED BEANS? BY ALL MEANS

When finances are low, give thanks for franks and A&P's thrifty ANN PAGE BEANS... and put them together like this: To two 16-oz. cans of beans, add 2 or 3 sliced frankfurters, 1 tsp. brown sugar, 1/2 cup grated onion and 1/4 cup tomato juice or ketchup. Pour into baking dish or bean pot and bake in a moderate oven, 350° F., 25-30 minutes. 6 satisfying servings.

STRETCH IT OUT WITH BEANS!

You won't hear a single beef about ground beef prepared this way! To 1/2 lb., add 1/2 cup salt; shape into balls and cook in 3 cups fat until browned, turning occasionally. Add 1 cup boiling water, 1 onion (cut in halves), 1 cup cooked or canned tomatoes and 1 1/2 cans of A&P SAUERKRAUT. Simmer about 1 hour. Serves 4.

LIFT-OVER "PUSH-OVER"

Two cups of left-over meat will serve 4 to 6 people... right... if it's stretched so: Mix together 1 finely chopped onion, 1/2 cup salt, 1 tsp. horseradish, 1 tsp. mustard and 1/2 cup pepper. Add to 2 cups mashed potatoes. Combine 1 egg (beaten), 1/2 cup WHITE HOUSE EVAPORATED MILK from the A&P (undiluted), 1 tsp. melted margarine and 2 cups left-over or ready-cooked meat (chopped). Add to potato mixture and pile into greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Bake in hot oven, 425° F., 25 minutes.

Lynnhaven Project May Open Field for Million Dollar Business Here

The tentative plan for improving Lynnhaven Inlet and its connecting waters was pushed a step further at a meeting held Monday night at Thalia. Colonel George T. Derby, District Army Engineer, announced to the Lynnhaven Waterways Association that he was inclined to recommend the project to the Corps headquarters, whose approval is necessary for congressional appropriation.

Colonel Derby further stressed the point that the success of the project was dependent upon local and other non-Federal cooperation which might cost $500,000 or more. He outlined the following plan for consideration:

Tentative Outline

1. Dredging of an entrance channel 400 feet wide and from 12 to 15 feet deep from the 12-foot contour in Lynnhaven Roads (Chesapeake Bay) to and through the highway and railroad bridges crossing Lynnhaven Inlet.

2. Probably construction of two stone jetties extending into Lynnhaven Roads the distance necessary to maintain the entrance channel.

3. A mooring and turning basin inside the Lesner Bridge which would have a depth of 12 to 15 feet.

4. A channel, 100 feet wide and 10 feet deep, via Long Creek and the drainage ditch, from the mooring basin in Lynnhaven Bay to the seven-foot contour in Broad Bay.

5. A channel, 100 feet wide and seven feet deep through the Narrows and connecting the seven-foot contours in Broad and Linkhorn Bays.

6. Channels, 100 feet wide and seven feet deep from the mooring basin in Lynnhaven Bay to the six-foot contours in both the Eastern and Western Branches.

These improvements, Colonel Derby said, would be at the expense of the Federal government. But, he added with emphasis, it was imperative that non-Federal commitments be made for the following associated improvements:

Associated Improvements

1. A new bridge on State Highway 815 crossing the channel from Lynnhaven Bay to Broad Bay with a horizontal clearance of 80 feet, vertical clearance unlimited.

2. Replacement of the Lesner Bridge (at the inlet), the new span being required to have a width of draw opening of 80 feet or more. He said it would be his personal view that the bridge should be elevated sufficiently to allow for free passage of smaller craft without resorting to the draw.

3. Construction and maintenance of terminal and marina for use of recreational and sport fishing boats.

4. Provision for adequate sewage treatment facilities to eliminate existing pollution of Linkhorn Bay and its connecting waters, the Eastern and Western Branches of Lynnhaven River, and Pleasure House Creek.

5. Adequate public terminal for commercial fishing operations.

6. Releases from shellfish interests to permit Federal dredging and maintenance of improvements in Lynnhaven Bay and to hold the Federal government free from damages.

7. Provide adequate shore disposal areas for all materials to be removed by the United States with hydraulic pipe line dredge.

Support Promised

Capt. G. A. Massenburg, Speaker of the House, promised his fullest cooperation before the General Assembly, if necessary. He also said the development would be a boon to the Virginia Pilots Association, of which he is president.

The biggest obstacle, as viewed by former State Senator J. Hoge Tyler, III, are the two bridge structures which, he said, would have to be passed upon (and paid for) by the State Highway Department.

J. C. Aspenwall, association secretary, in picturing Lynnhaven as a sport fishing center, cited West Palm Beach's $1,250,000 business and the $700,000 season at Ocean City, Md. Mr. Aspenwall also pointed out potentialities of the proposed terminal as an inducement to the North-South yacht traffic.

W. H. Terry, Jr., vice commodore of the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club, expressed the belief that such improvement would provide for unlimited expansion to the already increased boating activities in the Linkhorn and Broad Bay areas.

Though the plan is far-reaching and will require at least three years for realization, it was established that the project would be of natural facilities of Lynnhaven.

years for realization, it was established that the project would be of natural facilities of Lynnhaven.

1 1/2 Billion Dollar Road Block!

RAILROADS MUST OPERATE around the clock every day and night of the year.

Although they know this, leaders of 16 railroad unions are demanding a five-day, Monday through Friday, week for one million railroad employees.

They want 48 hours pay for 40 hours work—in itself a 20% wage increase.

They also demand a minimum of 12 hours pay for any work performed on Saturdays, and 16 hours pay for any work performed on Sundays and holidays.

On top of all this they want an additional increase of 25c an hour for every employee!

You'd Pay the DM!

Summing up these demands, they mean that these union leaders seek to force the railroads to give one million employees an annual raise which would average $1600 per employee!

The total cost of this would be no less than 1 1/2 billion dollars per year, which is more than twice the expected net income of the railroads this year.

You'd pay the bill, because if these increased costs are charged on the railroads, they must have still further rate and fare increases.

Demands Unreasonable

These employees have had substantial raises during and since the war. Their average weekly earnings are higher than the average weekly earnings of workers in manufacturing industries. They have more job security than the average worker in American industry. They also enjoy paid vacations, a retirement system and other advantages more generous than the average worker receives.

In contrast with the demands of these 16 unions, which add up to the equivalent of 60c an hour, the Conductors and Trainmen recently voted their wage request for an increase of 16c an hour.

Railroads Run for Everybody—Not Employees Alone

The railroad industry must serve not one but many groups—producers, businessmen, shippers, passengers and the general public—night and day, every day of the year. These unions are proceeding in utter disregard of this important difference between railroads and other industries. Industrial plants can be shut down over weekends and holidays, but freight, mail, express and passengers must continue to move. Everybody who enters railroad employment knows this.

Strike Threat

On September 18, 1948, the leaders of these 16 unions began talking a strike vote. But the threat of a strike will not alter the opposition of the railroads to such unreasonable demands!

We are publishing this and other advertisements to talk with you at first hand about matters which are important to everybody.

Beta Sigma Phi to Organize Chapter At Virginia Beach

Miss Louise W. Lowerre, field executive for Beta Sigma Phi, cultural and social sorority for young women, is in Virginia Beach working on organization details for a chapter to be established here.

Beta Sigma Phi is a non-academic sorority designed for the purpose of giving young women interested in cultural and social activities an opportunity to develop these interests. The study program outlines are furnished by the international office in Kansas City, Missouri.

In addition to the study and social activities, the international office sponsors creative arts, activities in the field of short story writing, poetry, lyric and song writing. They also sponsor tours for their members, having had three to Canada, one to Europe, two to Hawaii, one to the West Indies and Central America. This month they have enjoyed a trip to Sun Valley.

Even though Beta Sigma Phi is only seventeen years old it is the largest sorority in point of chapters, having 3300 chapters with an active membership of approximately 70,000 young women in the United States, Canada, Hawaii, Alaska, England, Scotland, and a recently organized chapter in Tokyo, Japan, comprised of staff members of the Red Cross and

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

I'm Glad We're "Different!"

There's a lot of difference of opinion in our county on the best kind of pasture. Some say alfalfa mixed with brome grass—others say mixed with oats or barley. But all agree that a mixture's better than a single crop.

I sometimes think people are the same way—and the strength of America is its mixture of so many different strains—some from one country, some from another—right down to little differences: like folks who have a taste for beer and those who prefer cider.

From where I sit, so long as we never become intolerant of one another's different tastes—so long as we live together with our differences, and even supplement them the way brome grass does alfalfa, then we're a mighty good crop!

So neighbor—enjoy your cider while I enjoy my beer! Vote for your candidate—I'll stand by mine! But never let our differences divide us!

The 1949 FRAZER

Trailblazer-of cars to come!

Once in a blue moon the stylists and engineers outdo themselves. They create a car that goes beyond today and sets the pattern for cars of the future.

This is what they have done with the FRAZER for 1949!

Low, sleek and differently handsome it is the trailblazer in style of cars to come. Its exclusive colors and fabrics have made the world's leading fashion designers fall in love with it. They call it "the dream car."

The same car, the FRAZER for 1949, has even won the hard-to-win hearts of the test drivers who must relentlessly punish a car mile after mile for weeks on end. They say the Frazer makes such driving no punishment for them. Its driving ease and riding comfort "make 600 miles a day a breeze," they say.

There's a thrill waiting for you at your dealer's today. With 100 new features, improvements and refinements, the 1949 FRAZER is ahead of its time...out front—trailblazing the way for all the cars to come.

First to break clean and scrap tradition, the cars from Willow Run have done it again. Because unlike other "new" cars built since the war, they've road-proven their dependability—2 billion miles worth! Value-proved to a quarter-million justly proud owners. See and drive the new FRAZER now! It's at your dealer's. Kaiser-Frazer Corporation, Willow Run, Michigan.

Gala Celebration in Prospect for Opening of Christmas Season

Christmas Lights To Be Turned On November 20

Saturday, November 20 has been set as the date for the light turning on ceremony at Virginia Beach. Members of the Trade Development Committee have announced that plans are under way for an organized celebration for the evening.

To date a plan has not been completely formulated, however, a number of ideas are being considered. It is generally understood that Virginia Beach merchants will have Christmas merchandise on display and will stay open for public inspections.

Other plans include several ideas for giving prizes, a grand parade, and general entertainment for visitors at the beach on November 20.

Virginia Beach merchants, in an endeavor to stimulate Christmas buying in this area, have stocked merchandise comparable to that in the stores in surrounding communities.

Peter S. Mills Dies Thursday; Cavalier Greens Keeper

Peter S. Mills, for the last 30 years greens keeper for the Cavalier Golf Club, died at his residence on Bird Neck Point Thursday at 5:30 a.m. He had returned from the hospital this week.

A native and lifelong resident of Princess Anne County, Mr. Mills was widely known by the golfing fraternity. Prior to going to the Cavalier Club, he had kept the greens at the Memorial and Ocean View links. He was also a member of the first town council of Virginia Beach.

He was a member of the London Bridge Baptist Church.

In addition to his wife, Mrs. Ollie Jane Allen Mills, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Elsie E. McCullen; three sons, Raymond J. Mills, Robert L. Rice, all of Princess Anne, and James E. Mills, of Hancock, N. Y.; three sisters, Mrs. Lois Smith and Mrs. Ella Howard, of Lynnhaven, and Mrs. Daisy Ballenger, of Dam Neck, and eight grandchildren.

Special Council Meeting Approves $6,500 Survey Fund

Attorney Paul Ackles, representing Leo Billey, appeared before the Town Council of Virginia Beach in special session Tuesday, to request the council's approval of a resolution permitting an encroachment on 17th Street of a building built and owned by Mr. Billey. According to Mr. Ackles the building is 1.8 inches beyond the property line.

The council passed, on second reading, a resolution appropriating $6,500 for preliminary studies relative to permanent repairs for the Board Walk.

Of the $6,500 needed, $4,000 will be paid to the firm of Myron Sturgeon, Inc., consulting engineers for detailed plans, surveys and specifications for the repairs. The remaining $2,500 will be paid to the same firm for detailed information on borings along the entire length of the walkway.

The proposal for endorsement of a southern access highway, introduced at the last council meeting, was tabled indefinitely. Town Manager Lockwood and Town Engineer Boudin recommended this action after conferring with E. D. Hubbard, resident highway engineer. Mr. Lockwood further announced that funds were not available for the proposed resurfacing of Atlantic Avenue this year.

Jaycees Hear Major Harry Yerby at Meeting Tuesday

At a regular dinner meeting of the Virginia Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night at the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club, Major Harry Yerby was presented as guest speaker. Major Yerby spoke on a recent mock operation of the combined military forces held in Florida.

Owag Moore, president, announced the receipt of a dinner bill presented by the Norfolk Junior Chamber of Commerce.

General Practitioner Opens Office Here

Opening his office in the old Bank of Commerce Building on Atlantic Avenue, Dr. Herbert W. Swertfeger, formerly of Hopewell, New Jersey, has announced that he will enter into the field of general practice at Virginia Beach.

A graduate of the University of Virginia, Dr. Swertfeger served with the Hopewell, New Jersey, draft board as examiner during the war.

Community Chest Fund Goes Over Top

With two more days left in the current drive, the Princess Anne County-Virginia Beach Community Chest campaign has exceeded its goal by $1,889.24. The goal set for the campaign was $12,000.

Figures released by Fred A. Haycox, general chairman of the drive, revealed that both the town and county surpassed their quotas of $6,000. Of the total reported thus far the county raised $6,335 and the town collected $7,554.24.

A further breakdown of the fund figures shows that the business division, headed by G. Fred Cook, Jr., and Les E. Shelly, led the campaign in the town with contributions amounting to $4,026.50. The residential division, spearheaded by Mrs. J. D. W. Cassada, raised $3,827.74, or $1,027.74 in excess of its quota.

William F. Hudgins, county chairman, noted that some sections of his area had not made final reports and that this would swell the county total to approximately $7,000. He expressed as gratifying the fine work done by the solicitors in the county.

William P. Kellam, chairman of the town division of the drive, gave much credit for the success of the campaign to the fine spirit of teamwork displayed by the workers. He mentioned the fine job done by the hotel group, headed by Sidney Banks and Jimmy Guzy, which raised $1,000, an increase of $600 over the previous year's figure.

The Junior Woman's Club, with Mrs. Cassada as campaign leader, handled solicitations in the residential districts of the resort. This group made the largest percentage gain over last year and helped materially to put the town phase of the drive "over the top."

Chairman Haycox stated that "the drive officially closes October 31, but there are still some contributions yet to come in." He urged those workers who have not completed their canvassing to do so within the next few days.

Corn Growers Club To Receive Prizes At Steak Banquet

Patrick H. DeHart, extension agronomist of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, will present awards and certificates to winning members of the Corn Growers Club of Princess Anne County, Wednesday, November 3, at 6:30 p.m., at the Colony Restaurant, Atlantic Avenue, Virginia Beach.

The announcement was made by Farm Agent H. W. Ozlin after a meeting of the arrangements committee for the affair. John W. Potter and A. Vernon Watts are other members.

The 41 members of the club will be guests of the National Bank of Commerce at a steak banquet. Prizes include $200.00 in cash, two tons of fertilizer, three bushels of corn hybrid seed and a radio. The prize money will be awarded according to the official records of the winners, Mr. Ozlin said.

Five members of the club who grew 100 bushels or more per acre will receive a 100 Bushel Membership Certificate signed by the Dean of Agriculture, Dr. T. B. Hutchinson of V. P. I.

All members of the club are urged to be present.

R. E. Etheridge, league president, announced that stop signs were being prepared for installation at all side streets intersecting Route 58 in Oceana.

R. H. Owens reported that the county board of supervisors had acquired the necessary property for an athletic field at Oceana.

Announcement has been made by Mrs. Basil Manly, president of Princess Anne County American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 113, that Mrs. S. A. Brock, a member of the Auxiliary, has been appointed Second District child welfare chairman. She was appointed by Mrs. Ray Gordon, Second District Committee Woman, following the convention in Roanoke.

Mrs. S. A. Brock 2nd District Child Welfare Chairman

Mrs. Brock was Second District Committee Woman two years ago, and is now serving as chaplain or the 8 and 40 for the department of Virginia. She is also historian of Unit 113, and member of the Hampton Roads Salon 359.

Mrs. Brock was second president of Unit 51, American Legion Auxiliary, the former organization now known as Unit 113. She held every office except that of treasurer in Unit 51, and she was treasurer of Unit 113 for three years.

Oceana Civie League To Join County Civic Organization

Approving the by-laws of the Princess Anne County Civic League at a meeting held this week in Oceana, the Oceana Civic League accepted an invitation to join the league of civic organizations.

Members of the Oceana Fire Department requested and were granted permission to sell the present fire truck to the Seateck Volunteer Fire Department. The organization also presented plans for the purchase of new equipment for the fire department.

Captain L. L. Black, Commanding Officer, Oceana Naval Air Station, appeared before the county board of supervisors to request a traffic light which the civic league has been urging for Oceana. It was reported that Captain Black's request was favorably met and the board has requested the State Highway Department to make a study of the possibility of installing a traffic light at the intersection of Court House Road and Virginia Beach Boulevard.

R. E. Etheridge, league president, announced that stop signs were being prepared for installation at all side streets intersecting Route 58 in Oceana.

Oceana Cavaliers Play on Home Field Today

The Cavaliers of Oceana High School will meet the Great Bridge-Hickory football team on the Oceana athletic field today at 2 p.m. Although the two teams are both in the Group II division, this is the first time the two football teams have met.

Great Bridge-Hickory has been tied by Portlock and have won over Kempville and Courtland and have been defeated only by Churchland. Oceana has lost to Norwich, Smithfield and South Norfolk, tied Franklin, and have won over Deep Creek and Portlock.

The two teams are very evenly matched by comparative scores, and the game today promises to give spectators the privilege of witnessing a hard fought game.

Coach Tomko of Oceana will very probably start the following lineup:

Ends—Bruce Jones and Rupery Everton.

Tackles—Richard Davis and Fred Yates.

Guards—Bill Gilbert and Earl Capps.

Backs—Tom Sawyer, Ralph Ardyett, Billy Carson and Bobby Fournon.

The 50-piece Oceana School band, which has made such an excellent showing, will appear between halves of the game.

County Schools to Get Funds for Needed Classroom Additions

Linkhorn Boat Fleet Showing Rapid Growth

With the addition of Vice Commodore Terry's new boat, 34-ft. Richardson cruiser, the Linkhorn fleet has taken another forward step in small boat development. The second officer of the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club introduced his boat to the fleet at the club Wednesday.

Winter weather is somewhat curtailing the activities of boat owners in this area. However, members of the yachting organization are planning to improve the access waterway system this winter.

Boats added to the fleet this season include Sidney Banks' 33-ft. Chris Craft cruiser, W. A. Crockett's 34-ft. Richardson, Jack Jackson's 30-ft. Chris Craft, and other smaller craft. The prospects for next summer are even better, with several 28-ft. high speed Chris Craft cruisers on order.

Halloween Party At Beach Playground Tomorrow Night

The Virginia Beach Playground will again be the scene for the annual Halloween party, according to announcement by Fire Chief Bayne. The party will be held Saturday, October 30 at 7 p.m.

Numerous door prizes and costume prizes will be awarded. The judges will select costume winners in several age groups ranging from one year to adult.

This year's party, as with years past, is open to everybody. All members of every family are invited to attend.

Mailhes Appointed Business Manager Of Little Theatre

According to an announcement this week by Les Shelly, Albin R. Mailhes has been appointed business manager of the Virginia Beach Little Theatre.

Mr. Mailhes, executive secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, will fill the unexpired term of the late Frank Shean.

Oceana Bowling Team Heads Men's League

The men's bowling league, bowling every Monday at 8:00 p.m., includes six teams. The standings of these six teams is as follows: Oceana, Hill's Market, Murden's, Minton's Barber Shop, Eaton's Service Station, and the Mystery Five.

No action was taken by the board on a request by J. C. Harris of the Princess Anne County Civic League and Mrs. H. L. Dillon of the Chesapeake Beach Women's Club that a mosquito control district be set up for the Chesapeake Beach-Ocean Park area. The supervisors will take action on a proposal to incorporate the new district with the East-Ocean View Mosquito Control District at the November meeting.

Lynchburg Firm Is Low Bidder On Bond Issue of $425,000

The Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors, in session Monday, authorized the sale of two school bond issues. Both issues, $325,000 for Kempville District and $100,000 for Pungo District, were purchased by the firm Scott, Horner and Mason, of Lynchburg, at an interest rate of 3 1/2%.

Lowest of three bids, the Lynchburg firm's interest rate was met by the Investment Corporation of Norfolk but Scott, Horner and Mason offered a premium of $484.25 against the $425,25 premium bid of the Norfolk company on the Kempville issue.

On the Pungo issue the Lynchburg firm offered a premium of $149.01. The Investment Corporation of Norfolk offered an interest rate of 3 per cent and a premium of $133.

The only other bid offered was that of Walter, Woody, Hummender, of Cincinnati, which bid higher on both issues.

The bonds were authorized in the referendum of June 28, however, the Board of Supervisors expressed the advisability of waiting before putting them on the market. Residents of the two districts objected to the delay and the School Board proceeded with the sale.

The slated improvements include four additional classrooms, a library, gymnasium, cafeteria, and lavatory facilities at the Kempville School, as well as some additions to the Bay Side School.

The Pungo District will provide additional classrooms, gymnasium, cafeteria and lavatory facilities at the Creeds School.

Bond Budget

Noting that the $219,034 road budget was $36,000 less than last year, the supervisors complained that the amount was inadequate. E. D. Hubbard, highway department resident engineer, explained that funds for all counties in the state had been reduced proportionately.

Mosquito Control Request

No action was taken by the board on a request by J. C. Harris of the Princess Anne County Civic League and Mrs. H. L. Dillon of the Chesapeake Beach Women's Club that a mosquito control district be set up for the Chesapeake Beach-Ocean Park area. The supervisors will take action on a proposal to incorporate the new district with the East-Ocean View Mosquito Control District at the November meeting.

PETE MILLS

With the passing of Pete Mills, Virginia Beach has lost one of its oldest and best known residents. Cap'n Pete, as he was known by most, has been greens keeper of the Cavalier golf course for the past 30 years and was among those who perfected its layout.

Before Pete Mills moved to his home on Bird Neck Point he served the Town as a member of its first Town Council. Though in failing health for some time, this venerable character had been active until he was taken to the hospital several weeks ago.

GIRL SCOUT WEEK

Next week is Girl Scout Week—a week during which the nation will pay tribute to more than a million girls and women of our land. Organized in more than 7800 communities, this group forms the largest non-sectarian organization for girls in the world.

In their own self governing troops, girls from seven to eighteen years of age conduct meetings and are trained to work with other people, given a knowledge of community agencies and resources, trained in the basic skills of homemaking, health, outdoor living and group recreation. Girl Scouts in the 10 to 14 year age group make up the largest group in Girl Scouting. They have given outstanding National service during two world wars collecting scrap, raising and canning food, aiding hospitals, contributing service and funds to relief agencies and aiding recruiting for the women's services.

In this area Mrs. Gerould Rumble is largely responsible for the excellent progress of the Girl Scouts. As District Chairman she has been untiring in her efforts to promote good scouting among the girls of the ten troops in Princess Anne County.

When the Freedom Train was on tour I made a special trip to go through it just to see if they had been able to get the Constitution of the United States in one exhibit car—it has been stretched so much I figured it would take two cars to hold it.

A TRAFFIC LIGHT AT OCEANA

The County Board of Supervisors has finally gotten the needed shove into action on the proposal for a traffic light at the intersection of Route 58 and Court House Road in Oceana.

Members of the Oceana Civic League have been advocating this step for some time. Residents along the highway have testified to the numerous accidents and near accidents that have occurred in Oceana.

Captain L. L. Black, Commanding Officer, U. S. Naval Air Station at Oceana, requested the County Board to take some action to alleviate the problem. The Supervisors agreed to request the State Highway Department to study the problem and take what action may be deemed necessary.

IT SEEMS TO BE CATCHING

Several weeks ago a petition was presented to the Town Council regarding a building encroachment on Pacific Avenue. This week another similar petition was presented, this time the encroachment was on 17th Street. In neither case was the building more than four inches out of bounds. However, one might stop and think—How many of us are resting on public property?

I am just an ignorant country boy that ain't got no more sense than to believe that a candidate for president ought to sincerely believe and practice what he says in his platform. Most candidates campaigns are conducted like a reversible auction pump—the candidate blows off in order to suck the voters in.

A FEW TOUGH FACTS

High prices affect everybody. By steady jumps prices are now 75 per cent over 1920. Food has gone up more than 127 per cent. Production has nearly doubled in the past few years. Average hourly earnings in manufacturing, retail trade, coal mining and private building all show increases. Wages of coal miners are up 183 per cent. At the same time profits have jumped 360 per cent since 1929.

Despite the high cost of everything more people have been saving money the last year than at any time since the close of the war. The Federal Reserve Board reports that new credit restrictions have reduced the prices of new automobiles about a hundred dollars. There is still a great need for housing, but the prices are so high that there is a slump in building enterprises. Evidently steel production continues to be a perpetual bottleneck, and that's what is tying up the railroad and other industries. There are 66,000 fewer freight cars today than in normal years.

Government spending is terrific—because of international conditions. The only consolation in the summary of conditions is that State and local governments are spending more for streets, highways and the schools than in former years. The picture is rather pessimistic but somehow or another everybody seems to be eating, sleeping and drinking, just about like they were in the "good old days." We all keep jogging along!

Only Purchase Agreements Will Hold In 1948 Corn Crop Program

Program of Loans On Farm-Stored Corn Discarded

Purchase agreements will be offered to Virginia farmers as the only method of supporting the 1948 corn crop, according to R. W. Lane, chairman of the Princess Anne County Agricultural Conservation Committee. This announcement followed a decision of the State FMA committee to discard a program of loans on farm-stored corn which was originally announced, along with the purchase agreement program, last August.

In dropping the loan program, the State FMA committee is acting in behalf of farmers' interests by eliminating the hazard of storing corn through summer months for delivery after September 1, 1948, the loan maturity date. Under the purchase agreement program, deliveries will be made in June, 1949, if the producer prior to that time has not already chosen to sell his corn through commercial channels.

Purchase agreements in Virginia will be available on 1948 grown corn from the time of harvest until March 31, 1949. Interested producers may sign purchase agreements at the county ACA office, where at the same time they indicate the maximum number of bushels they may wish to deliver to the government, and pay thereon a service fee of one-half cent per bushel or not less than $1.50. There is no refund of service fees in event delivery is not made to the Commodity Credit Corporation.

By signing a purchase agreement a producer is not obligated to sell his corn to the CCC and retains full possession of the crop. If he chooses to deliver to CCC the corn must be delivered between June 1 and 30, 1949, and must meet the following conditions of eligibility:

a. Corn must be offered only by the producer and not by a dealer or broker.
b. The grade of the corn delivered under the purchase agreement must be No. 3, or better, or No. 4 solely on the factor of test weight but otherwise grading No. 3 or better.
c. Corn must be shelled.

The purchase price for corn delivered under a purchase agreement will be established on the basis of grade under U. S. Grain Standards. The basic rate for corn grading No. 3 or No. 4 on test weight only is $1.61, with premium adjustments of one cent or one-half cent per bushel for corn grading No. 1 or No. 2 respectively, and two cents per bushel discount on corn which grades "mixed."

Highway Department Issues Fall Message

From the State Highway Department in Richmond this week came an annual Fall message to "farmers and truckers—Get your heavy hauling out of the way before Winter comes!"

It is the old story of an ounce of prevention being worth a pound of cure, engineers said.

Cooperation at this time may make it unnecessary to impose load limits on the lightly-surfaced routes at a later time, they added.

Farmers Warned Not To Cut All Timber At Present Time

Farmers and other forest land owners who think that now is the time to cut all of the saleable timber should take a hard look at price trends, says J. W. O'Byrne, forester at Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Today's high stumpage and log prices make this a good time to sell mature trees and to dispose of low and deformed trees, but studies by the U. S. Forest Service show it is not good business to sell young thrifty trees which are growing rapidly, O'Byrne points out.

These studies show that although actual prices for timber increased during periods of inflation and dropped during the depressions, the adjusted price trend has been upwards since 1900. The records also show that timber was the only farm product that did not fall below the 1910-14 price level during the 1931-34 depression.

Virginia Highway Deaths Show Only Slight Decrease

Richmond—Virginia State Police records indicate only a 3.5 per cent decrease in Virginia highway deaths for the first nine months of 1948 when compared with the same period of last year, according to E. H. Williams, Jr., executive director of the Governor's Highway Safety Committee.

Mr. Williams stated that the first three-quarters of 1947 saw 531 such fatalities while the score for this year stood at 483 as of October 1. Pedestrian deaths topped 1947's toll 133 to 120 and Mr. Williams expressed the fear that, by the year's end, we might see a record worse than that of 1947, since traffic deaths mount sharply with fall and winter months.

At this time last year, he stated, total deaths were 18.6 per cent less than for a similar period of 1946 with pedestrian deaths 28.4 per cent below. Mr. Williams also stated that the old needless late reports and subsequent deaths quite possibly might bring a death toll worse than that of last year for the period.

"Of course," Mr. Williams said, "the better record we make, the more difficult it is to improve upon it. However, the Commonwealth won three national awards for traffic safety during 1947 and it is the moral responsibility of each of us to keep these deaths and injuries down."

Mr. Williams pointed out further that, while 711 deaths were considered a commendable record, it is still a shocking total and can bear much improvement. If the average citizen, he said, was informed that he, a member of his family or a close friend was in immediate danger, he would bend every effort to avert this danger. Yet he simply will not realize that this is exactly the case and that a thrifty young tree, O'Byrne explains that the growth of these trees in the next few years will probably more than offset any decrease in price of good timber. If the price of timber drops other commodities will likewise decline with the result that dollars from timber sales will buy correspondingly more. Any Princess Anne farmer planning to sell some timber can get expert advice if he will contact his county agent.

TAA Distributes Safety Posters In Tidewater Area

"Look Both Ways Before Crossing" Is Traffic Safety Theme

Failure to look both ways before crossing streets or highways causes death or injury to thousands of persons each year, John B. Day, vice president of the Tidewater Automobile Association, declared today in announcing distribution of the November AAA "Look Both Ways Before Crossing" posters and traffic safety units to schools in the Tidewater area.

"The fact that traffic signs and signals are installed at crossings, or a policeman or School Safety Patrol member is on duty, does not relieve a pedestrian of his responsibility for his own safety at a crossing," Mr. Day said. "The safety material to be furnished teachers is intended to help them develop this concept of personal responsibility in children and the habit of safe walking practices, including looking both ways before crossing any street or highway."

Accidents were the fourth most important cause of death of persons in the United States in 1947. The only diseases which caused more deaths than did accidents were heart diseases, cancer, and cerebral hemorrhage. The lowest 1947 traffic accident death rate of 37.1 per 100,000 was for children 5 to 14 years old. It was a 6 per cent reduction under the 1946 rate. Persons 15 to 24 had a traffic death rate more than twice as high. These figures prove the value of pedestrian traffic education of the teen-agers and young adults as far as traffic practices go.

The safety poster for November was the grand prize winner in the Fourth National Traffic Safety Poster Contest, conducted by the American Automobile Association, with which the TAA is affiliated. It was created by Edward Shepherd of the Murrell Dobkins Vocational Technical School, Philadelphia, Pa. He won a grand prize of $425.00 for developing it, the prize being intended as a scholarship to an art school.

An average of 4,000 visitors are conducted on tours of the Rouge plant of the Ford Motor Company at Dearborn, Mich., each week during the summer months. In one week of July, 1948, 5,600 persons visited the famous plant.

National Child Safety Campaign Now Underway

Richmond, Va.—A State-wide effort to reduce Virginia's child accident toll of about 350 lives yearly through participation in the national child safety campaign in September was set forth by Dr. L. J. Roper, State Health Commissioner, State Department of Health, as an immediate public health objective calling for concerted cooperation by all public health and medical authorities and interested civic organizations within the State.

"The needless loss of a single life, or the crippling of even one child, is an exorbitant price to pay for any neglect of this problem," said Dr. Roper. "Through the attention directed to child safety by the national campaign we have a most favorable opportunity for an intensified allied effort in our state."

The objective of the national campaign is to reduce the number of child accidents, both fatal and nonfatal, through a mass education program directed to parents and older members of the family on ways of eliminating unsafe practices which produce the great number of child injuries. The campaign is being conducted by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company with the co-sponsorship of the U. S. Children's Bureau, the American Academy of Pediatrics, and the National Safety Council.

The importance of the national campaign is evidenced by the fact that accidents are now the leading cause of death among children more than one year old. This is shown in the experience of the insurance company among its millions of industrial policyholders, in which the accident death rate for 1946 among children from 1 to 4 years was 48.1 per 100,000 as compared with a rate of 28.3 per 100,000 for pneumonia, the next leading cause of death. Significantly, although the death rate from all diseases in this age group is now only a third of what it was 15 years ago, there has been little improvement in the rate of death from accidents.

Among children 5 to 9 years old, the death rate from accidents was 25.7 per 100,000, as compared with a rate of 4.8 for rheumatic fever and organic heart disease, the next cause; and among children from 9 to 14, the accident death rate was 20.8 and that for rheumatic fever and organic disease 7.2.

The outstanding improvement in the death rates from all non-accident causes during recent years is the result of the advance in medical science and concentrated efforts in the field of child health. The premise of the child safety campaign is that efforts now must be intensified to bring about a somewhat comparable reduction in the number of child accidents.

An important phase of the campaign will be the door-to-door distribution by the agency force of the Metropolitan of a 12-page illustrated booklet, "Help Your Child to Safety," prepared by that company. The booklet also will be offered to the public through the State Health Department, the local chapters of the National Safety Council, and the other cooperating organizations. This booklet

"SNOW MAIDEN"

"Snow Maiden"
Ballet To Open
Children's Season

The Edwin Strawbridge Ballet, "Snow Maiden," will be the initial presentation of the season of the Children's Entertainment Bureau of Norfolk. Two performances will be given at the Center Theatre Saturday, November 6, at 11 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

The production, a dance play, is a dramatization of an ancient legend: a story of a gentle couple who dream of a daughter to comfort their old age. Their longings are idealized in the form of a beautiful Snow Maiden who is created from ice each winter. The

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Hix have returned to their home in Bay Colony after visiting Mrs. Hix's mother, Mrs. John Coke, in Richmond, Va.

Mrs. J. W. Henderson and Mrs. M. H. Cramm and two sons, of Ashland, Kentucky, will arrive tomorrow to visit Mrs. Henderson's sister, Mrs. Bruce Stummons, at her home on 52nd Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Phelan left Monday to spend a week in New York City.

North Beach, located by the waters of this couple, among the three children with Mrs. The dancing Snow Maiden, accompanied with her parents, the children, Snow, and words of the forest, makes a fascinating tale for children. It becomes more interesting when at the approach of Spring, the Snow Maiden wanders deeper into the forest in search of coal briars, and finally is unable to find her way home. The Snow Maiden is a Polish village, and the music is based upon the folk songs of that people. The costumes, scenery, and the music open the eyes of children to a gorgeous world of colors.

"Riddleberry Pina," by Salome Gaylor, will be presented on April 8. The Children's Theatre of Norfolk, a member of the Bureau, announces its opening play, "The Black Christmas Carol," for Saturday, December 4, at the Center Theatre, with performances at 11 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. On Saturday, March 12, "Sleeping Beauty" will be offered.

Try-outs for the first play have already been held, but any child, whether or not he or she has had any dramatic experience, is eligible for try-outs. Children, potentialities or latent talents are thus given a chance for development, as it has been found that children without experience have had much to contribute to the culture of Norfolk.

The Young People's Symphony, also a member of the Bureau, will introduce to the children and youth of the city and surrounding territory Mr. Edgar Schenkman, the new conductor of the Norfolk Symphony, who will conduct the concert on Thursday, January 30, at 3:30 p.m. in the Arena. There will be only one concert this year. Mr. Schenkman comes to Norfolk with wide experience in the field of children's music.

The season ticket sale will run from October 25 through November 5. The price of the ticket is $15.00 and may be purchased at any school. It entitles the holder to admission to the five performances. The difference in color will denote the morning or afternoon program.

The Children's Entertainment Bureau, a non-profit organization, was organized in 1937 to bring to the children of Norfolk and surrounding areas the finest of entertainment through the media of the dance, drama and music.

Mrs. Walter Robey, the former Miss Patricia Caulfield, of Virginia Beach, who is now a resident of Del Monte, California, spent a few days in San Francisco and was a guest at lunch with the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Carman, Jr. The Rev. and Mrs. Carman and three children will move November first into their new home in San Francisco, California.

Mrs. Clarence Thompson and Miss Florence LeMoine will leave today for Farmville, Va., to attend the wedding of Miss Helen Wylie Hardy and John Wheat, which will take place this evening in Farmville.

Mrs. Hayward Baker, of Norfolk, will spend this week-end at the LeMoine Cottage.

The initiation of pledges and installation of the charter chapter of Beta Sigma Phi in Virginia Beach will be held Friday evening, October 23, in the Marine Room of the Hotel Jefferson. The honorary sponsor of the chapter will be Mrs. Basil Manly.

Mrs. Barbara E. Kelly will be supervisor.

Chorus from the Alpha Rho chapter of Norfolk will assist in the candlelight ritualistic ceremony. Miss Louise W. Lowery, Gold executive of the sorority's headquarters in Kansas City, Mo., will preside.

The 14th annual Beta Sigma Phi Virginia State Convention will be held October 30 and 31 at the Chamberlin Hotel, Old Point Comfort, Virginia.

Still and Two Men Taken at Seatack

A 220-gallon capacity whiskey still and 200 gallons of mash were destroyed and two alleged Negro moonshiners were arrested Monday near Seatack, Princess Anne County.

Oliver Henry Williams, 64, of Route 2, Virginia Beach, and Carter Hixson, 34, of Bonney's Court, were held over for the United States Court grand jury, on illicit whiskey charges, after a hearing before Commissioner Harry A. Brinkley.

Agents of the Federal Alcohol Tax Unit and Police Chief I. D. Mapp, who made the raid, said they seized a rifle and a pistol at the scene.

Legion Auxiliary to Meet Monday

The Princess Anne County American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 115 will meet Monday 8 to 9:30 p.m. at the Community House, 24th Street, Manly, Washington, D.C.

Mrs. W. G. Holman, ship chairman, announced that this membership month and even all members or ladies eligible to become members to attend this meeting. Unit 115 has approximately 715 members in the county.

Membership dues are now payable and should be turned in.

Mrs. Manly asks that gifts for the Veterans Gift Shop at Seatack be turned in at this meeting.

Re-elect Norfolk Man President of Princess Anne Country Club

H. O. Nichols, president of the Southern Bank of Norfolk, has been re-elected president of the Princess Anne Country Club.

Other officers named at the annual meeting and dinner Saturday night were James A. Beasley, vice president; David Fender, Jr., treasurer; and George H. Ware, secretary.

Directors elected were Reid W. Digges, Lawrence M. Cox, Dr. Brock Jones, J. Frank George, Jr., and W. F. Woodley.

Older Rural Youth To Get Attention In Extension Program

A long-time, statewide program to improve the lot of older rural youth has been announced by W. W. Sore, rural youth specialist at Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Mr. Sore explained that studies are being made in various Virginia counties now to determine the needs of older youth and to develop programs. He defined older rural youth as those belonging "naturally to the group between 18 and 24 years of age." This period, he said, is that between 4-H Club age and adulthood, and has been neglected in organized programs.

The state youth committee has set forth the following objectives:

1. To help youth develop wholesome democratic attitudes, and to help them acquire skills in farming, homemaking, and other vocations.
2. To emphasize the importance of youth participation in adult community activities.
3. To get the help of and cooperate with other youth-serving agencies.
4. To encourage all Extension Service personnel to serve this group.
5. To promote an active program of training, and to develop leadership in county, state, national and international affairs.

Stressing the need for the youth program, Mr. Sore said that the 1940 census showed that more than 250,000 youths between the ages of 18 and 24 live in Virginia; and that 57 per cent of the white farm boys and 44 per cent of the white farm girls, who were 21 when the census was taken, had stopped school at the seventh grade or below. These youths, he pointed out, are "the forgotten group in our population . . . most of our educational efforts in the past have been designed to meet the needs of young children or adults."

County Forestry Committee Offers Help to Land Owners

"More Trees for Virginia" is the objective of an intensive program being inaugurated by the Princess Anne County Forestry Committee. Committee Chairman Sidney Kellam stated that he and his committee will attempt to arouse the interest of our woodland owners in better timber management. This is a part of a new State-wide forestry campaign being conducted cooperatively by the Virginia Forest Service, American Forest Products Industries, Inc., and Virginia Forests, Inc.

One of the first activities of this new program will be the distribution of an interesting bulletin entitled "Cash Crops from Virginia Woodlands." This booklet will be mailed to every landowner in the county.

"We are pleased to promote this program in Princess Anne County. We wish to encourage you to read this bulletin. If you have any question concerning your woodland just fill out the reply card enclosed with the booklet and drop it in the nearest mail box. A forester will contact you as soon as possible," said chairman Kellam.

Other persons on the Princess Anne County Forestry Committee with Chairman Sidney Kellam are F. B. Reader and Ben Washman.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Want To Join Our Club?

Newcomers to our town are puzzled when they hear talk of "The Barbecue Club." Want to know who can join, and what the purpose is.

Well, the answer is: any one can join who's neighborly inclined. The purpose is simply to enjoy good food, good beer and ale, good conversation—all towards getting to know one another better.

Every other Saturday, at one farm or another, the pit is dug, and the fire started. And by sundown, neighbors from miles around have come together—the women contributing cakes, pies, and coffee, the men contributing the meat for barbecuing, and the beer or ale.

From where I sit, it's this simply wholesome side of country life in America—the spirit of good-fellowship—that makes for tolerance and better understanding between neighbors.

As I say, Neighbor, any one can join up! So come along a week from this Saturday.

Joe Marsh

Good Neighbor...

In scores of communities all over the Norfolk and Western system, men whose caps bear the familiar word, Agent, every day touch the personal lives of thousands of folks who live in those towns.

The principal job of the station agent is to receive and dispatch freight, sell tickets, and in the smaller communities, handle express. He plays a big part in the movement of the vast variety of goods required by people in every town . . . in your town . . .

The double feature which played last night at your neighborhood theatre may have been handled by him before it reached the projection booth. The baby chicks, which next year will supply Mrs. Jones' family with fresh eggs, only yesterday chirped on the baggage wagon at the station. Machinery for the new plant at the other end of town was received first by the station agent. The trained setter, which Bill Smith will take into the field this Fall, got a welcoming pat on the head—from the station agent. And in smaller towns, the telegram which read " . . . twins . . . mother and sons doing fine . . ." also may have been received and delivered by the man with the little sign on his cap.

But the local station agent is more than a railroad man in your community. He may be a member of the town council, scout master of a local troop. He may assist in the Community Fund campaign, or be an officer in your church. Wherever he is, he's your neighbor and fellow citizen . . . and we like to think of him as a good neighbor and a good citizen.

The Norfolk and Western Railway recently was awarded the Hazen Memorial Gold Medal for making the outstanding safety record among the large Class I railroads of the nation in 1944. This marks the fourth time the N. & W. and its employees have won the highest honor in railroad safety.

Crooks Farmer Escapes Robbery In Norfolk Tuesday

The big city doesn't particularly like the excitement for Grover Whitehurst, farm crook.

Mr. Whitehurst told police he was in Norfolk Monday night with a load of produce to sell to the city. He parked his truck at Market and Market Streets and went to sleep in the cab while waiting for the sun to come up.

Along about 3:25 a.m., he says, he was awakened by someone going through his pockets. He aroused himself and began to go to work on the thief.

But the wily city thief was one jump ahead. He had already lifted Mr. Whitehurst's shoes and as Mr. Whitehurst jumped out of the truck the thief wound up and hit him in the face with one of them.

The thief got away—with no money—and Mr. Whitehurst was treated at Norfolk General Hospital for abrasions.

Pfc. Caffrey New In Air Traffic Control

Private First Class George M. Caffrey graduated recently from the Air Force Communications School at Scott Air Force Base, Illinois. It was announced today by the base commander, Brigadier General Emil C. Kiel.

Graduated as a control tower operator, Pfc. Caffrey will be assigned to an Air Force installation where he will control the local flow of air traffic and thus provide for safer flying operations.

Pfc. Caffrey, 30, son of C. P. O. and Mrs. James V. Caffrey, 412 26th Street, Virginia Beach, attended high school in Beaufort, N. C., and Oceana, Virginia, and the Virginia Episcopal School in Lynchburg. He enlisted in the Air Force April 24, 1943. His father is in the United States Coast Guard.

Prior to entering the Scott Air Force Base Communications School, Pfc. Caffrey completed basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

State Travel Council Announces Sound Movie of Virginia

Richmond—The Virginia Travel Council today announced that a new sound and color motion picture devoted to Virginia will be made in the state this autumn for distribution through the theaters of the nation. Arrangements for its manufacture were being perfected here today by Council representatives and with the assistance of the publicity division of the Virginia department of Conservation and Development.

The picture will be produced by Frank Follette, of New York, and will feature sport highlights of the state. Production will start November 1, and release is promised for early in the spring of 1945. The Virginia Travel Council is working to get additional motion pictures of Virginia made by national companies.

Pvt. Pritchard With 8th Army in Japan

Private Clinton J. Pritchard, son of Mr. Clinton J. Pritchard, 318 26th Street, Virginia Beach, has recently returned to his regiment from Wakayama, thirty miles south of Osaka, which is the second largest city in Japan.

A member of the 27th Infantry Regiment of the famous 25th Infantry (Tropic Lightning) Division, Private Pritchard spent a week at Wakayama with his company which was firing its annual qualification course with assigned weapons.

Private Pritchard joined the 25th Division, which is commanded by Major General William B. Kean, upon arrival in Japan.

Allied Youth of America Speaker At Oceana Friday

The Rev. J. Grady Hutchison, field secretary of the Allied Youth of America, will speak in the Oceana High School auditorium Friday, November 5 at 10:30 a.m.

Rev. Hutchison's visit is sponsored by the women's societies of the churches in the County and Virginia Beach. He will also make addresses in other schools in the County later in the day.

By the time a woman finally decides to negotiate peace, the male enemy may have abandoned the campaign and be ensconced in winter quarters elsewhere.

Certificates Now Available for World War II Decorations

All Virginians who hold military decorations awarded during World War II may obtain certificates attesting to the awards by writing the Adjutant General of the Army, Colonel Carter R. McLeannan, Acting Executive of the Virginia Military District, announced today.

Medal winners will receive certificates of the diploma type, each bearing a replica of the decoration for which it is granted.

Nearly a million servicemen and women who received decorations during the war have not yet received the certificates to which they are entitled.

Winners of decorations should address their requests for certificates to The Adjutant General, Department of the Army, Washington 25, D. C. They should indicate the number, date, and headquarters of the general orders which awarded the decoration originally, and if available they should inclose copies of the general orders and of the complete citations.

Certificates for decorations awarded posthumously may be obtained by the next of kin.

McMahon to Open News Service at Barra

November first will mark the opening of a new News Service at Virginia Beach. According to Frank McMahon the facility will be installed in Barra's Pharmacy at 17th Street and Atlantic Avenue.

Mr. McMahon has been associated with Atlantic News Service and Penn-Russ News and Valt Service for the past several years.

Sam Patterson Named President Of Hospital Group

The Tidewater Hospital Administrator's Council this week elected Sam E. Patterson, administrator of Leigh Memorial Hospital, as its president for 1944-45.

In monthly session at Leigh Memorial, the council also elected as vice president, W. L. Beale, administrator of Riverside Hospital, Newport News, and secretary and treasurer, Sister Rosanna, administrator of DePaul Hospital.
